History buff has a new cause for Honest Abe

You probably understand or have at least heard the concept behind "changing neighbor-

That is where everything goes to pot.

Dead birds lie in the street. Trash blows around. A person can't leave home at night for fear of bodily harm. And kids want to steal things from school, like chalk, erasers and dictionaries so they can study better.

Pretty soon, the situation is so deteriorated that even all the people who have jobs want to leave their beloved "changing neighborhood."

REINHARDT LUEBBERS, who would bring Abraham Lincoln to the Northwest suburbs, and still might, remembers a Schaumburg in which people passed on the street and said bello. It was a nice place to live.

Folks were friendly. Only on the rarest day would a Schaumburg farmer steal a furrow from another farmer's field. It just wasn't the street from Luebbers' home east of Roselle Road, someone broke into a house and caused all sorts of damage.

"IT'S UNFORTUNATE we have to live in an area where it's gone to that," sald Reinhardt, who is president of the Schaumburg Historical Society and seeks to bring a 64-foot, 10-ton statue of Lincoln north from Charleston.

"Just a few years ago, we didn't have all that," Reinhardt said Monday morning while inhaling coffee and cigarets. "And you don't hear of half the breakins. People don't even report them.

About three weeks ago, Reinahrdt saw footprints in the back leading up to his house, then away. "I assume they saw the sign and went away," he said.

The sign, black letters on white board, sits on his back porch. It says "WARNING - Break into the building and it will be the last one you ever will. Go shead -Try it - Punks."

THERE IS NO MORE. But people leave him alone, too. And what is the cause of this unhealthy climate which Reinhardt says has fallen upon Schaumburg. He points east to Woodfield Mall, that First Wonder of Golf Road where dollars are forever going, going, gone! It's bringing out all the wrong element, he said.

Now, Schaumburg's identity is gone, sald Reinhardt. People thought so big, and were fast t a l k e d by developers whom Reinhardt calls "$200 million jokers," that they forget about the

He said all anyone ever hears about is Woodfield. "Go someplace, anywhere within 200 miles. They'll say, Schaumburg, where is that?" Reinhardt said.

"IT DOESN"T take much for a person to figure out the old feeling of Scheumburg friendliness that existed before Woodfield is gone, he said. "We're all strangers, ex-

Ticket sales lag for circus fete

Wheeling Village officials said they are concerned about the lagging ticket sales for the March 11 Wheeling Bicentennial Commission night at the Medinah Shrine Circus.

In a report to the board Monday, Thomas Markus, assistant village man-

Markus said Tuesday that "as I understand it, commission members can't legally commit the village to an expenditure of that nature."

"This kind of agreement would have to be approved by the village board," he said.

Kathi Bellwoar, Bicentennial commission chairman, said Tuesday the commission has "a slight problem" with the tickets, including a lack of cooperation from Wheeling Chamber of Commerce officials.

"The chamber hasn't seen fit to cooperate. They've led us down the golden path and have treated us very coldly when we tried to put up posters in the stores," she said.

Disannex bid topic of fire unit meeting

Wheeling Rural Fire District trustees will meet tonight to discuss Wheeling's plans to seek disannexation from the district.

James Ryan, district attorney, said Tuesday that the fire district has received a letter from village officials requesting consent for the disannexation. The village board last week asked the village attorney to prepare documents for withdrawal from the district.

Wheeling village officials are seeking disannexation from the district in an effort to increase hre tax revenues to the village. Village Trustee Wilham Hein has said disannexation will allow the village to provide "the same, if not expanded services to the residents of the village at an equal tax rate throughout the village."

by KURT BAER

Arlington Park Theatre plans to sue actor Richard Dreyluss, star of the motion pirture "Jaws," for walking out on the production of "Miss Julie" at the race track theater.

The 25-year-old Dreyfuss left the play because he was unhappy over critics' reviews panning the production, Karen Alton, publicist for the Arlington Park Theatre, said Tuesday.

"There was tremendous (critical) disappointment with Mr. Dreyfuss. Attendance at the theater was not healthy. And that does something to the vanity of an actor who thought he was achieving super star status," she

DREYFUSS WAS not available for comment Tuesday. His agent in Helly-

Ms. Alton said the theater will seek to recover the financial losses it has suffered by canceling the play that was scheduled to run through March

Dreyfuss played the shark expert "Hooper" in "Jaws," the biggest grossing film in motion picture history. He personally selected August Strindberg's "Miss Julie" for produc-

United to lay off 350 workers here

United Airlines will lay off 350 employes at its Elk Grove Township offices effective March 15. Airline officials attributed heavy financial losses and a slowdown in passenger service growth to the laying off of 10 per cent of the 3,500 employes at the offices. Nationwide the airline employes 50,000 people and officials said furloughed employes will be given the "first shot" at any job openings. Edward Carlson, chairman of the airline and its parent company, UAL Inc., said in a statement to employes, "the financial outlook for the months ahead is poor. Rapid recovery from the December strike has not taken place and we lag behind our competitors. In January, United suffered a record monthly loss of $21.4 million and Carlson said he expects February figures to show a "significant deficit." The layoffs will affect only headquarters complex employes in Elk Grove Township and will not include airport personnel such as pilots and flight attendants.

Spray fumes kill girl

A 13-year-old Des Plaines girl died Tuesday, apparently after inhaling fumes from an aerosal spray deodorant can. Kathleen Baudin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gladney, 620 Beau Dr., was, pronounced dead about 6:15 p.m. at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge. Authorities said the girl had been sniffing the fumes from a towel doused with the spray. Des Plaines Fire Capt. Michael Buckley said the girl's parents were not home at the time. Another girl, age 14, was reportedly with the Baudin girl at the time and was taken to Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines, where she was treated and released, a hospital spokesman said. Buckley said the fire department was telephoned by an unidentified caller at 4:28 p m. and said her girl friend had "passed out" and needed help. Paramedics tried unsuccessfully to revive the Baudin girl before taking her to the hospital.

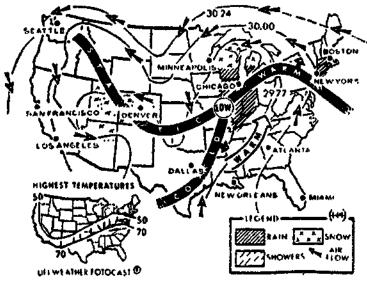

Heavy rains cause flooding

Heavy thunderstorms caused flooding problems in some Northwest suburban areas late Tuesday causing police to barricade reads and assist large numbers of motorists with stalled cars. Des Plaines appeared to be hardest hit with police there saying Higgins Road, east of the Soo-Line Ry. tracks, had to be barricaded because of the heavy rains Storm sewers in the vicinity of River and Rand roads also backed up causing additional flooding, police said. A number of residents also called complaining of flooded basements, police Sgt. Gary VanduVusse said. Police in Elk Grove Village said rain accumulation forced closure of Shadywood Lane in the village and Palatine police said Ill. Rte. 14 at Hicks Road was underwater. The National Weather Service said heavy rains were to have tapered off last night but more was forecast for today.

Stolen goods recovered fast

It didn't take Dennis McGovern of Rolling Meadows long Tuesday to recover stereo equipment stolen from his auto. McGovern was driving in the vicinity of Algonquin Road and Arbor Drive about 12:36 a m. when he stopped to tell Schaumburg Patrolman Stanley Christ that a tape player, two speakers and 24 tapes had just been stolen from his auto. Christ, who was questioning a motorist for a traffic violation when McGovern stopped, had just found the stolen equipment in the trunk of the auto he had just stopped. Charged with two counts of possession of stolen property was Gary L. Plonke, 18, of 4603 Magnolia Dr., Rolling Meadows. Police said Pionke also was charged with possession of marijuana, possession of a hypodermic needle, damage to property, driving without a driver's license and two traffic violations.

Fiscal chief raps Walker budget plan

ر کرنے کہ اور میں میں کا بھی کا کا اور اور اور اور اور کا اور کا اور کا بھی کا اور اور اور اور اور اور اور اور

by STEVE BROWN state's chief fiscal officer charged Tuesday that Gov. Daniel Walker resorted to "budgetary gimmickry" to develop his fiscal 1977 budget, but admitted the document represents "tight, but achievable spending plan."

State Comptroller George Lindberg said Walker's $9.908 billion budget, which was released Monday, represents a plan that may allow the state to get through the year without a tax increase, but will lead to additional cash flow problems and state delays on bill payments.

Waiker formally will present his budget to the Illinois General Assembly today. He has proposed a budget which asks for about $900 million less in appropriations or spending authority than last year, but has predicted he will spend $8.41 billion, up from $8.155 billion during the current fiscal Walker and Lindberg aiready are disagreeing about how general revenue funds will be spent in the coming fiscal year. The governor's budget di-rector, Leonard Schaeffer, said general fund spending will be about $5.6 bil-lion. Lindberg said, however, his analysis indicates the spending will be more than $6 billion.

LINDBERG CONCEDED that Walker's plan to speed sales and income tax collections from businesses will provide the $100 million revenue that has been budgeted over and above the $400 million to $500 million revenue growth forecasted by his office.

Lindberg also charged the budget "will be a deficit budget" and the "margins for error are razor thin." He also criticized Walker for not spelling out how the increases proposed for education should be spent. He promised a more detailed analysis later this month.

Legislative reaction to the budget proposals is expected today, and an interim report from the Ilinois Senate Committee on Fiscal Accountability has indicated the state waste between $200 million and $500 million annually.

State Sen. Thomas Hynes, D-Chicago, chairman of the panel, said the Walker administration has used the budget as "public relations

A consulting firm hired by the committee recommended the formation of a task force of business, industry, labor and university leaders to eliminate waste in state government.

U.S. ignored complaint of bribes: exec

A Texas businessman testifled Tuesday the State Dept. did nothing when he complained that Haltlan Pres. Jean Claude "Baby Doc" Duvaller's "palace" demanded a half million dollar bribé and half ownership of his company. William Crook said the refusal of his firm, Translinear Inc. of Texas, to meet the demands last year led to the confiscation of equipment and cancellation of a contract to develop the Haitlan island of Tortuga into a freeport and tourist center. The official Haitian government said last year it had cancelled the contract because Translinear did nothing over four years to develop the Toriuga property, and met none of the deadlines specified in the contract. Crook testified before a Congressional Joint Economic subcommittee about the impact on U.S. companies that refuse to pay overseas bribes.

U.S. drops suits against tire firms

After nearly six years of investigation, the Justice Dept. Tuesday dropped civil antitrust suits against the nation's two largest tire manufacturers because of lack of evidence. Thomas E. Kauper, assistant attorney general in charge of the antitrust division, said he dismissed the suits against Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. "with the greatest reluctance" after deciding he could not prove his cases in court. The suits had charged the companies with illegally trying to monopolize the tire replacement market by lowering prices to force smaller com-

Winter storm hits upper Midwest

A winter storm stacked roadclosing snowdrifts in the Great Lakes and upper Midwest regions Tuesday and triggered power failures in thousands of homes. The same far-flung storm system dumped deep snows on the West - as much as four feet in the California Sierra and 20 inches in Utah's high country. Snow fell in the hills of the San Francisco Bay area, closing highways and schools. Three to four inches of snow fell on the hills near San Jose, along the peninsula south of San Francisco, and in Sonoma County to the north. Heavy rains triggered mudslides and caused traffic jams in southern California.

Court makes it easier to sue for libel

The U.S. Supreme Court, in a case involving the Firestone divorce suit, Tuesday made it easier for private individuals to sue for libel, particularly those who can be regarded as "public figures.". The opinion by Justice William H. Rehnquist also held that the press may be subject to damages for inaccurate reporting of a court proceeding, even if it was done without malice. The decision, to which only two justices registered major dissents, came in the case of Mary Alice Firestone, a Florida socialite.

Multiple sclerosis linked with virus

Two American research teams have linked multiple sclerosis with an apparent virus, but scientists said Tuesday it may take years to find out if the agent actually causes the disease that cripples hundreds of thousands of Americans. The work nonetheless is seen as an important step in the effort to track down the factors responsible for multiple sclerosis so an effective treatment can be devised for the now-incurable disorder of the brain and spinal cord. It strikes adults in the prime of life.

New comet brighter than expected

The latest comet to swing around the sun is much brighter than expected and should give early risers a spectagular view for the rest of the week, a space agency astronomer said Tuesday. Dr. John C. Brandt, of the Goddard Space Flight Center, Washington, D.C., said Comet West is four times brighter than Kohoutek, the much-heralded comet of two years ago that turned out to be a viewing dud. The best time to spot the comet is to look eastward about an hour before sunrise. Although West is far brighter than originally predicted, Brandt said the lights and smog of metropolltan areas may interfere with the view.

House liberalizes black lung benefits

The House Tuesday approved a bill to liberalize black lung benefits to coal miners, including the automatic award of benefits to persons who work a long time underground in the mines whether they show symptoms of illness or not. The measure, approved 210-183 on a roll call vote, now goes to the Senate, where committee action was expected within a few weeks.

Howlett reveals alternative to Crosstown

Sec. of State Michael J. Howlett Tuesday offered an alternative to the proposed Crosstown Expressway for Chicago. He said he favors building a highway south of the Eisenhower Expressway, but opposes construction north of it. Howlett, who is running against Gov. Daniel Walker in the March 16 Democratic gubernatorial primary, said his plan has three parts and the first two would displace 463 houses or garages, about 574 fewer than would be displaced under the proposal favored by Mayor Richard J. Daley. He offered no specific plan for the third phase of the proposed highway, which would link the Eisenhower and Stevenson expressways.

He was accused of exterting $100,000 from firms deing business with the western suburb from 1968 through

Gun-control bill suffers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Judiciary Committee unexpectedly voted Tuesday to send a tough handgun bill back to subcommittee, possibly killing gun-control legislation for this year.

After committee liberals complained of an intensive lobbying effort against the bill by the National Rifle Assn., the panel voted 17-16 to recommit the measure to its crime subscom-

Among other things, the bill would have banned the sale, manufacture and importation of cheap, easily concealed handguns.

It would not have affected the more than 40 million handguns now owned by Americans.

Supporters said the bill would have curbed the spread of the type of handguns most used by criminals. Opponents said it would have banned handguns used primarily for sporting purposes and made it more difficult for law abiding citizens to obtain firearms for self-protection.

Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., said it was impossible to predict whether the committee would be able to salvage the measure.

But Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., one of its chief sponsors, said, "This kills gun-control legislation for this

Several members complained of NRA lobbying pressure against the bill prior to a vote on the recommital motion by Rep. Thomas Railsback,

Rep. John Seiberling, D-Ohio, called it "one of the most blatantly crass lobbying campaigns ever."

The bill also would have:

- · Required mandatory sentences for anyone using a firearm in the commission of a felony.
- Increased license fees and strengthened licensing procedures for gun dealers.
- Made it a felony for anyone to knowingly sell a gun to a person convicted of a felony.

Fixitman's testimony links Miss Hearst to loaded gun

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - The prosecution produced a surprise witness Tuesday who challenged Patricia Hearst's story that she went on a bank robbery not, knowing whether her gun was loaded, but his own testimony was shaken by the defense.

A TV repairman testified he accidentally let a door swing shut on Miss Hearst as she was entering the Hibernia Bank and that he saw her picking up clips and bullets knocked from the carbine to the sidewalk.

The witness, Zigurd Berzins, 32, was put under stinging cross examination by defense counsel F. Lee Bailey, who brought out that all Berzins saw of the person in the doorway was the top of the head and the hands and suggested he might not even have been able to Berzins testified that it definitely was Miss Hearst, but Bailey produced FBI reports in which the witness once identified the person picking up the bullets as Nancy Ling Perry and another time as Patricia Soltysik.

The trial was interrupted and the jury excused from Wednesday's morning session when the defense challenged the legality of a search of the apartment where William and Emily Harris were captured.

Bailey cited a ruling made in Los Angeles Monday by Superior Court Judge Mark Brandler in the trial of the Harrises on kidnap and assault charges.

Brandler ruled that guns and documents found in their apartment could not be admitted in evidence since the FBI had the building under surveillance for 30 hours before they were arrested but did not obtain a search warrant until the next day.

U.S. Judge Oliver J. Carter agreed to hear arguments Wednesday as to whether the same evidence should be banned from Miss Hearst's trial.

Berzins was one of six witnesses called by U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. Tuesday as the trial neared the jury stage, which probably will be reached early next week in light of the latest legal tactic. But Berzins was one of the most important prosecution witnesses of the entire trial.

If his story of seeing Miss Hearst kneeling to pick up clips and bullets is true, it would mean the young woman was lying about saying she never checked to see whether her carbine was loaded and was never given any

Bailey saw that immediately and went on the attack. He held up in front of Berzins the carbine which has been identified as the one Miss Hearst carried into the bank during the rob-

Voters in both states slogged through the polls in a blustery, late winter ice and snowstorm. Vermont got up to nine inches of now, which so clogged roads that three tiny hamlets declared their voting off until they could dig out later in the week.

Maoists openly criticize Teng

by CHARLES R. SMITH

HONG KONG (UPI) - Hardline Maoists attacked Teng Hsiao-Ping in China's theoretical journal for the first time Tuesday, extending the power struggle between party chairman Mao Tse-Tung and President Ford's host.

Teng, a vice chairman of the party and a vice premier in the government, was not named specifically. But the reference to him in an article published in the March issue of Red Flag magazine, the theoretical journal of the Chinese Communist party, was unmistakable.

The article also appeared in the party newspaper People's Daily, cov-ering the entire front page. Peking Radio broadcast the article in full over its national network.

The Red Flag article reviewed the opposition to Mao's policies since the founding of the People's Republic of China in 1949, saying the issues essentially were the same.

The basic issue is whether the main policy course should be Mac's advocacy of continuing struggle or whether

The group asked the candidates whether they support strengthened e a m p a i g n centribution disclosure laws, changes for the Illinois Election Beard, lebbying disclosures, and free-dom of information and open meetings laws.

Elk Grove Dems endorse

Momhers of the Elk Grove Township Democratic Organization have discarded an earlier position and deedded to endorse candidates in the Merch 18 Illinois primary.

Democratic Committeeman William Rese said last month the organization would not make endorsements in the primary, but the group's executive committee voted to endorse Sec. of State Michael J. Howlett and the slate of candidates running with him for election in the primary.

A spokesman for the group said Rewist, Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan, State Treasurer Alan Dixon, State Sen. Cecil Partee and Michael Bakalis won unanimous backing from the committee over Gov. Daniel Walker and the state of candidates running with him for statewide office.

Several observers said the endorsements were made after members of the erganization pushed for the group to take a position in the primary contest. They said the action was not related to reports last week that Chicage Consumer Sales Comr. Jane Byrne planned to erganize a Demo-

Ford's proposal calls for new limitations on eligibility for the program, and prevents strikers and temporarily unemployed persons from obtaining food stamps. Crane is the sponsor of the Food Stamp Reform Act.

Crane also praised the U.S. House Committee on Government Operations report which criticized the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare.

The committee report called the agency a bureaucratic monstrosity, subject to enormous losses through fraud and program abuse. Crane said he believes the time has come for an effort to reduce the number of programs under the jurisdiction of HEW.

The way we see it

Quality school choices needed

The season for school board elections has begun, and this year, perhaps more than any other, the issues are crucial.

Prospective members school boards have until March 19 to file petitions to run for the elementary, high school or community college board that serves their community. The election will be April 10.

The need on local school boards has always been for talented, dedicated people who are : willing to face the problems of public education without pandering to special interests or being diverted by issues of minor importance.

This year those qualities in school board candidates are especially important. Area school districts in the next few years will experience declining enrollments, financial problems and the increasing skepticism of a public that has become doubtful of supporting quality public education.

The day is long past when local school boards are nice, safe places for those who hate controversy but want to serve their communities. Instead, board members frequently find themselves facing the wrath of their communities — their neighbors – when they make hard decisions about which school to close and which program to cut.

To be a school board member today takes courage and the willingness to spend long, thankless hours studying problems which have no simple solution.

These requirements may discourage many potential candidates, but we believe the Northwest suburbs have an ample supply of persons who will fill the stringent needs of school

Persons with intelligence, courage and an interest in schools can get on the ballot for their local school district by obtaining petitions from school district offices, getting 50 signatures of registered voters and filing them by March 19.

Large fields of qualified candidates are needed to give the voters a good choice in the future direction of the schools. Once the hoopla of elections is over, qualified candidates can also ensure the future excellence of education.

Citizen interest: good prospect for new city

What is happening in the new City of Prospect Heights these days is an exercise in how the election process should work on the local level.

More than 24 Prospect Heights residents, from all areas of the community, have indicated an interest in being members of the first Prospect Heights City Council. The city was formed by referendum Feb. 2.

It is a healthy sign to find citizen involvement in local elections which in the past all too often have been characterized by the lack of issue-oriented candidates. In too many suburban elections the issues revolve around apathy rather than involvement, and the election is won by the candidate who walks through his neighborhood to gather enough names to put him on the ballot.

But in Prospect Heights there is going to be a real election, and when the air is clear, residents will be able to make an intelligent decision on who should represent them.

The people of Prospect Heights and the people of all our local communities should be entitled to no less.

Today is Wednesday, March 3, the 63rd day of 1976 with 303 to follow. The moon is moving toward the first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn. Those born on this date are under the sign of Pisces.

Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, was born March 3,

On this day in history: • In 1849, the U.S. Department of Interior was created by Con-

• In 1879, a woman lawyer, Mrs. Belva Ann Lockwood, practiced before the U.S. Supreme Court for the first time • In 1931, the Star-Spangled Banner was designated by an Act of Congress the "National Anthem of the United States." • In 1974, 345 persons were killed when a Turkish plane crashed near Paris.

A thought for the day: American writer William Heary Hydson said, "You cannot fly like an eagle with the wings of a wren."

Information act dimmed by new subterfuge

by DAVID E. ANDERSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Four years ago, in one of the first tests of Freedom of Information Act, an exasperated Rep. Patsy Mink, D-Hawaii, noted that a bureaucrat could "stamp the Manhattan telephone directory 'top secret' and no court could order this changed."

Her frustration resulted in congressional amendment of the Freedom of Information Act to the extent that contents of documents, not just their classification, be a determining factor in disclosure.

The government, however, has apparently found a new way to keep information to itself that others are seeking. Instead of stamping the document "top secret," it stamps them "confidential source."

In addition, a recent court ruling in Los Angeles seems to indicate the government has a much wider loophole than first thought: entire agencies can be classified as "confidential sources" and are thus exempted from disclosure.

THE CASE INVOLVED attempts by the Church of Scientology to get its files from the Drug Enforcement Administration. The controversial church, which maintains it has been falsely characterized by government agencies for over a decade, has filed nearly two dozen suits under the newly amended act seeking to review and correct files the government maintains on it.

In that case, Judge Warren J Ferguson of the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California found that the question at hand was "whether or not a police department under the law is to be classified as a confidential source."

Ferguson said that after reviewing the material in the files sought by the Scientologists that "if I had my druthers" fully 75 per cent of the material should be released "because most of the information is innocuous, and some of it even silly."

But he said that Congress, in amending the law to overcome a veto by President Ford, had tied his hands in ordering it disclosed because of the "confidential source" provision of the

Citing Sen. Philip Hart's words during debate on the disclosure amendment, Ferguson said, "It is no longer open to court discretion for a definition of 'confidential source' other than what the words themselves say. It is no longer open to discussion by the courts for an interpretation of 'confidential source' other than what the agency itself — provided, of course, that it is a law enforcement agency places upon that term "

HART, DURING THE debate on his amendment to act, said Senate and House conferees had agreed that "all the FBI has to do is to state that the information was furnished by a confidential source and it is exemi-

"If the DEA in its primary objective of major, world-wide narcotics investigation, determines that a person, private entity, public agency or foreign police department is a confidential source, then Senator Hart, in order to persuade Congress to override the presidential veto has said that all the FBI has to do is state it, and it is exempt," Ferguson said.

Some of that town's people would sell Lincoln. Others aren't so sure. But Reinhardt is interested. What a great publicity gimmick, he reasoned.

He'd like to have a Schaumburg-based group raise $25,000 for a tentative offer, just to see whether Charleston would fish er cut bait.

Reinhardt would put Lincoln, who's depicted in a speech making post, at Town Square.

EVEN HE ADMITS the whole thing is "a wild idea" and who's to say whether Charleston wants to sell. Reinhardt visited last week and they weren't sure.

But he won't be detoured, not so long as it seems Charleston might accept an offer. "When you visualize the joker (Lincoln) standing there you'd see him all around," said Reinhardt. "He's a little big, but somebody once said. 'Think hig.' I forgot who it was."

FOR THE MOMENT, he's casting a wishful eye at Honest Abe. "I'm not looking for publicity for myself, I'm trying to do something for the Historical Society and for the community, Reinhardt said.

"We'll do something else if this doesn't work out."

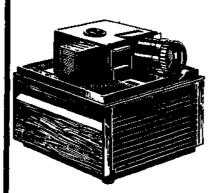

He mentioned that Schaumburg might construct its own statue, even though Reinhardt said, "There's no one of historical importance around here, no generals, no presidents."

On a more practical note, he would even settle for some highway greeting signs. Every town should have them, Reinhardt said.

"And I'll tell you what," Reinhardt warned, "I won't have them say, 'Welcome to Schaum- burg, the home of Woodfield.' "

He would sooner move to Marengo, where the neighborhoods are not changed.

Two for T-shirts

by KAREN THOMPSON

It's T-time in Buffalo Grove. Those all-season, anyone-can-wear-them T-shirts are boosting business for two enterprising owners of the T-shirt Factory.

Larry Dickstein, 18, and Adam Freedman, 19, started selling T-shirts at Chicago area rock concerts. The business became so successful that the young men opened the T-shirt Factory in Buffalo Grove's Villa Verde Shopping Center, Arlington Heights and Dundee, roads, six months ago and plan another store in Hanover Park in the very near future.

Shirt designs available in the store range from the ridiculous to the raucous, from W. C. Fields to Robert Redford and from ice cream cones to Coor's beer. There's something with a special meaning for everyone.

According to Freedman 430 designs are new availabe in the store. "But that number grows larger each day," he said. Designs are transferred to the shirts by a process called non-direct silk screening. Some of the designs come from catalogs, others are custom designed by the T-shirt Factory's own artist.

Dickstein said that among the T-shirts currently most popular are "Foxy Lady, Spider Man, The Three Stooges and Super Jock." "WE ORIGINALLY planned to sell one other item along with the T-shirts, such as jeans," said Freedman. "But, we did so well with T-shirts we decided to make them our sole product."

"People come here especially for T-shirts. We have customers of all ages," Freedman said, "But I would say that mothers with young children are our best customers. They buy shirts for the entire family."

The T-shirt Factory also produces shirts for businesses, parties, sporting teams. They claim they just designed shirts for an entire wedding party.

"We started our business on a very small scale," said Dickstein. "We pumped everything we made back into it. Now our stock is up and we are ordering many more types and styles of T-shirts for summer."

The new models will include tank tops, muscle shirts, tapered tees and French cut T-shirts among many others. Most of the shirts are made of 50 per cent polyester, 50 per cent cotton and they range in price from $3.45 to $7.95. They come in every size imaginable — even extra extra large — and every color in the rainbow.

Admission to mental institution may be voluntary

A letter from L. N. asks if her 18year-old son commits himself voluntarily to a mental hospital, how long will he be kept there and may he change his mind once admitted.

Before we discuss the law and mental problems, let's talk about physical ones. Sometimes what seems like a mental condition can be the result of a hidden physical illness that reveals itself only after extensive testing. A complete physical examination should be the first step in a case like this. If the youth's problem is physical, the cause might still persist even after he has received mental care should be go that route first.

The next step might be to contact the local mental health department. I can only explain the law that applies to voluntary admission to a mental hospital, but I am under the impression that there are avenues in L.N.'s community that could provide care with "outpatient" privileges rather than confinement.

T-shirt factory co-owner Adam Freeman hoists a mobile-type display.

Meantime, here's what Illinois says about voluntary admission.

 For anyone to apply personally for voluntary admission and to gain that status, the person must consent to an application being submitted for him by any relative or an attorney.

• A volunteer patient may change his mind. But he must give written notice to a staff person. He may leave at any time, but the hospital has the right to retain him for up to five days (excluding weekends and holidays).

• Something else to consider is that

Women and children first the hospital has the right to retain a voluntary patient by changing the form of admission to involuntary. This could be done if the hospital believes that the patient may injure himself or someone else if released.

However, should the hospital wish to hold him, it must file with the court

a petition and a certificate of two examining doctors, one a psychiatrist.
In addition, a court hearing must be set.

I've been told that in virtually all cases, the one admitted voluntarily is released almost upon request without waiting the maximum five-day period. That's the law, but checking first with the hospital about procedure might ease one's mind.

Does a voluntary mental patient lose his civil or legal rights?

• The answer: the patient may continue to vote, sign contracts and make wills and just about everything else any person has a legal right to do.

For those interested in information about voluntary mental patients under 18, the term "voluntary" becomes questionable.

• The superintendent of a hospital may accept applications from a parent, guardian or a person in loco parentis (acting in a parental capacity) such as the Illinois Youth Commission or the Department of Children and Family Services.

Woman's fertility declines with age

My sister-in-law reads your column faithfully. She says that it is possible for a woman of age 60 to become pregnant if precautions aren't taken. I disagree with her. She will look for your answer.

You have a 99.9 per cent chance of being right, maybe even greater. Documented prognancy after the age of 56 has never been

In the past decade there has been some confusion regarding menstrual periods and fertility. Women who have been taking sequential birth control pills and interrupt the medicine monthly for artificial menstruction will continue to have this response as long as they take these pills and follow the regime.

The hormones build up the lining of the uterus (womb) in the first part of the month and when they are stopped, the lining is shed. This "period" is induced artificially by hormones and is unrelated to the ovaries. Therefore the continuation of monthly bleeding with such a treatment regimen is unrelated to the ability of a woman to get pregnant. For information about menopause send 50 cents for The Health Letter, number 5-12, Menopause. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Address your letter to me in care of Paddock Publications, P.O. Box 1851, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

I am wendering if it is at all possible for me to decrease the size of my nose. You see, I have a very large one and it is making my life miserable. I am a male and 15 years old. If it keeps growing, I'll soon hate to look in the mirror more than I de now, If you knew of any possible way to reduce its size, please let me knew as soon as possible. I will appreciate any kind of exercise or anything that I could do at home for now.

Without a picture it would be really difficult for me to know whether you are exaggerating your problem or not. In any case it disturbs you and therefore it is important. An individual who thinks he has unattractive physical features will be handicapped for life. You need to either gain proper perspective concerning your features or else they need to be corrected.

I am sorry to say that there is absolutely no way at home that you can do anything that will decrease the size of your nose. However, reduction of the size of noses is done every day in major medical centers by operations. The surgary is simple, effective and good results are commonly achieved. You should have a consultation with a plastic surgeon who does rhinoplasty (nose surgery). Your family physician should be able to refer you to one. If he won't, you can find out from the county medical society. If that fails, you can write to the surgery department at the nearest university medical center.

It's expensive and it's not pleasant, but it's a short procedure. I am in favor of directing one's attention towards the actual problem. It seems ridiculous to spend five years trying to convince yourself through psychiatry that your large nose is really an attractive feature when in truth you could simply have it corrected for an improvement in your overall appearance.

If you are a candidate for surgery, it may be that the surgeon would prefer that you wait until your growth is more fully achieved for the best longtime results.

Here's one for the young fry - as long as pizza remains a hot number in the food line. Watched Janice Dudas make this simple pizza burger, and it went over big. Mix one pound of ground meat with a small can of tomato paste, a sprinkling of oregano, salt and pepper, a sprinkling of grated Parmesan and a bit of garlic powder (optional). Taste for seasoning. If it's to your liking, make a patty to fit an open-faced bun and broil until the meat seems done. Then put on the him, add a slice of Mozarella cheese and put under broiler until it is bubbly.

Look Younger in the Face of Winter

TALL GIRLS SHOP

You can look older sooner than you think. As early as your twenties, your natural moisture and oil supply decreases, leaving your skin vulnerable. Winter, with its chill weather, harsh winds and indoor heat can quickly dry your skin, making you look older...'no matter what your age. Take a close look in the mirror. Is that really how you want your skin to look?

Now discover the secret of a mysterious beauty fluid, a secret shared by knowledgeable women of all ages in many parts of the world, who look their youngest no matter what the season. This beauty fluid, with ats wealth of pure moisture and tropical oils, is known in the United States as Oil of Olay beauty lotion.

Oil of Olay works hand-in-hand with nature to ease away the dryness that cantoo easily make you look older too soon. The beauty fluid penetrates your skin's surface deeply and astonishingly quickly. And there's never, ever, a greasy afterfeel. The beauty fluid works almost exactly like your own natural moisture to soothe away dryness. And it helps maintain the oilmoisture balance of your skin, essential if it's to look as young and glowing as possible. Watch as your skin virtually drinks in Oil of Olay, Within moments your complexion grows noticeably softer and smoother, so you can look your youngest, whatever your age. Soothe on Oil of Olay every single morning. It's marvelous under makeup or, if you choose to go bare-faced, it provides a moist environment for your skin. Again every single night, to work beautifully during hours of sleep. And whenever else a feeling of dryness tells you that the moisture content of your skin should be increased.

Enjoy the winter weather . . . the skiing, sledding, all the fun the season has to offer. Just be sure to let your skin enjoy the benefits of Oil of Olay. You will find the mysterious beauty fluid at your drugstore.

Winter Bounty Secret

In this weather, your skin can scarcely get enough Oil of Olay. Carry it with you in your purse or tote bag, so you'll never be caught without its help.

Euglena mixture of plant, animal

Wester, 13, of Trilley, Alta., Canada,

WHAT IS A EUGLENA?

Everyone loves a good puzzle, and sometimes one turns up in the animal world. When scientists got their first look at Australia's platypus, they didn't know what to think. Imagine an animal with a bill like a duck, a tail like a beaver and fur like an otter. Scientists finally found a spot for him and declared him a mammal. The euglena, however, has not fared so well. It is claimed as a plant by some, an animal by others, and in between the two by many.

one of the plant-animal organisms. He is a small creature, generally less than one-hundredth of an inch long. His body is shaped like a tiny water drop that is pointed at both ends. Extending from his pointed tall end is a long thread called a flagelium. The euglena swims through its freshwater environment by lashing the flagellum from side to side.

Many euglenas have no need to search for food, since they have tiny green chloroplats filled with chlorophyll and make their own food — like most plants. Other euglenes contain no chlorophyll and must get their nourishment from organic foods. Some species are kind of half and half, and live like plants in the sun-

With both plant and animal characteristics, the euglena lived a pingpong ball existence - in one book he would be listed as an animal, while a different book would list him as a plant. Happly, the euglena finally found a home. A new division of the classification system was made to include such animals as the euglena.

It is not too unsound. South will have 10 tricks if he can pick up the queen of clubs. Naturally, enough, he postpones the club play until the end of the hand and before he gets around to it he will have found that West held the king of spades.

Therefore, in order for East to have more than 15 higheard points and a proper notrump East will be holding that black lady.

Now South attacks clubs by leading the jack from dummy. If East ducks, South lets it ride; if East covers South proceeds to finesse successfully against West's 10 spot.

Harper's Patterson achieves the Junior College Dream

If there is such a thing as the Junior College Dream, and for thousands of students and athletes hoping to use the two-year schools as a springboard to a four-year college it does exist, Dave Patterson has seen The Dream come true.

As a graduate of Maine South High School two years ago, Patterson had hopes of playing baseball and (ootball at Northern Illinois University.

But the Huskies offered him only a baseball scholarship. So Patterson enrolled at Harper College, placed high two years running among Juco placekicking scorers, led the Hawk baseball team as a pitcher and first baseman and will play both sports at NIU

"Dave has shown what the junior coffeges are all about," said Harper feotball coach John Ellasik, "He proved himself in two sports at Herper and now he's getting a rull ride to play both specie at Northern.

"If you know Dave, you know there was never a doubt he'd do it."

Dave Patterson is a class act. He rises to shake people's hands. He took over the leadership of the Harper football team as a freshman and sacrificed himself to play quarterback for the injury-riddled Harper team as Above all, he knows what he is doing with his life.

"When Northern called me for some information about my high school career." Patterson said, "I said, "Wait a minute. Harper gets the credit. They gave me the chance to play both sports. I wouldn't be going on a full ride in both sports without them."

"Northern isn't used to getting junior colleg transfers."

Patterson picked Northern over the University of Dayton because the Ohio school offered only tuition and wanted Dave just as a punter.

So on a cold, wind-blown day in February, when colleges across the country were out getting signatures national letters-of-intent, Northern's Bill Urbanik was at Harper bright and early.

Urbanik, an assistant coach who played in the Rose Bowl with Ohio State, said, "Dave is a real find. We're allowed only 21 scholarships but since Dave can handle both punting and placekicking we get two for

"Dave has proven himself in college competition so we aren't taking a chance. There are football players who average 40 yards a punt one year and never come close to that again.

"We don't have to worry about that

Patterson is a competitor and Harper gave him the chance to play regu-

"If I had gone to Northern when I graduated from high school," Patterson said, "I probably would have sat on the bench as a freshman.

"I got to play right away at Harper. I showed I could play two sports and I think Northern took that into account when they offered me the scholar-

Patterson was more interested in questioning Urbanik about his future teammates than in himself. With Palatine's Mark McCostlin also signed to NIU for next year, Patterson doesn't have to worry about filling in at quarterback again.

"We recruited Dave exclusively as a kicker," Urbanik said. "We want him to become the best kicker he can without worrying about anything else.

"We expect him to take care of all our kicking problems for the next two years."

Patterson will also be taking care of

"I'll be a junior at Northern next fall," Patterson said, "with an Associate Degree in Science from Harper. I'm going to be a coach."

"He'll be a good one," Eliasik com-

"Dave haudies himself well." Urbaaik said. "He's the type of person who walks down the street and people are impressed.

"Dave Patterson is a winner." He is also proof the Junior College Dream can come true.

A Herald Staff Report

The elimination process continues. The field of high school basketball teams still alive in Class AA competition gets smaller every 24 hours, and four more area entries packed their uniforms away Tuesday night.

Arlington, Maine West, Schaumburg, Buffalo Grove and Maine North were the winners in regional scuffling, setting the stage for five interesting battles tonight at area sites.

The Wednesday evening schedule finds Count meeting Palatine at Hoffman Estates (7:30), Deerfield playing Lake Forest at Buffalo Grove (7:30), Elk Greve and Prespect hattling at Maine West (7:38), Hersey and Artington getting together at 7:00 at Wheeling and the host Wildcats and Maine North squaring off in the finale

ALLSMILLER SETS MARK

The esthetics may not have been there but the statistics were - compliments of Brian Al'smiller.

The 6-8 junior sharpshooter poured in 29 points while leading his Buffalo Grove teammates past a spunky Carmel unit and into the finals of the Bison-hosted regional tournament, 72-60.

Nearly lost in the shuffle were 2 couple more milestones surpassed by big Brian. He soared to a new area single season scoring record and also moved past former Hersey great Dave Cerzine into second place on the all-time Herald area career scoring

'It wasn't exactly what you would call an artistic triumph out there tonight," shrugged Bison coach Paul Grady. "Wé beat Carmel pretty handily back during the Thanksgiving really feel that they had much to worry about this time.

Not until halftime at least. With four Grove starters sitting on the bench in minor foul trouble, the Corsairs reeled off 10 straight points just before the intermission to take a 31-30

After the rude awakening, the Bison regained centrel inte in the third peried on the outskooting of Alismiller and Scott Greet and Mike Ledna's floor play stole the show in the final stanza. Ledna finished with 13, including seven straight free throws in the closing stages of the game, while Tim Murray (22 points) Dennis Dounelly (13) and Ryan Milot (12) paced the guests.

Alismiller now has 631 points on the season, surpassing the old single campaign record of 621 set by Ken Pollitz of Elk Grove in 1974. His career mark of 1453 is just 109 shy of all-time leader Ron Kozlicki.

CARDS SIDELINE FALCONS

Arlington spotted Forest View a 19-9 lead before unleashing all-league senior Jim Grandt who poured through 25 game-high points to rally the Cardinals past the Falcons, 52-44.

Trailing 12-3 after the first quarter on 1-for-9 shooting from the floor, Arlington stormed from behind as Grandt began seeping through Forest View's 2-1-2 zone and crashing the offensive boards.

The Falcons handcuffed Arlington with their dizzying zone while scoring 12 straight points in the early going. With spunky Tom Lunak penetrating for four points from his guard spot and Bill Simon cashing a pair of base-weekend and I guess our kids didn't line jumpers. Forest View sorinted out to 19-9 command.

But Grandt found the scoring touch and drilled a dozen second-quarter points to bring Arlington within 22-20 at intermission.

With Grandt continuing the hot hand and teammate Greg Kloiber dumping in six in the third period, Arlington achieved the lead for good at 30-29 and stretched it out to 48-37 late in the fourth quarter.

Lunak paced the Falcons, who bowed out of action with a 5-19 mark, with 15 points and Ray Michaelsen added 10. Kloiber complemented Grandt's 25 with 11 for the 12-13

DEFENSE KEYS SAXONS

The Schaumburg Saxons, trailing at halftime, used a devastating third quarter to propel themselves into the lead and on to eventual victory over Hoffman Estates, 74-58.

The win was No. 20 in 25 games for coach Joe Breault's Saxons and thrusts them into the tourney's charaplouship game to be played Friday against either Palatine or Conant.

Hoffman Estates led 29-27 at the half, largely on the accurate outside shooting of John Staback and the inside scoring and rebounding of Gene Foster, Ron Warring and Joe Tully. The Hawks wearied in the second half, though, and saw their record fall to 11-15 for the year. They had beaten Fremd the night before to advance to the tourney's second round.

Schaumburg adjusted its threequarter-court press at the start of the second half and the switch appeared to be the key factor as the Saxons outscored the Hawks 28-9 in the eightminute span.

Jon McIlraith scored the first five points of the quarter and Schaumburg was never headed thereafter. Dan Breen tossed in five baskets for the Saxons in the period as Schaumburg pulled out to a 55-38 edge.

Breen and teammates Ed Chmiel and John Chmiel scored 16 points each for the winners and Mcliratth added 13. Bill Solik had nine and Marty Golub chipped in four points and some key rebounds in the crucial third quarter.

WEST WINS, 51-47

A stumbling Maine West used the free throw line to hold off a late Rolling Meadows comeback and grab a 51-47 win in the opening game of the Maine West Regional.

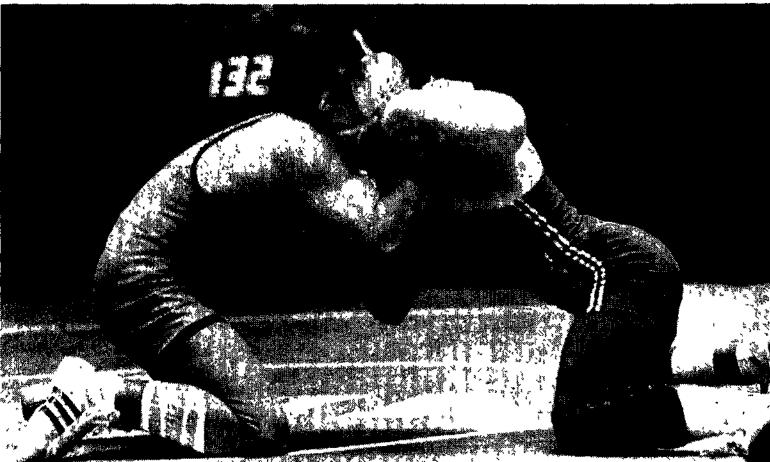

Held by the Mustangs to just one early fourth period bucket. West connected on 10 of 11 free throws in the final 31/2 minutes of play to get the win, its 17th against nine losses

While the Warriors were putting up one two points in the first 41/2 minutes of the final period, the Mustangs closed a 10 point gap to come within two, 43-41 with 3½ minutes to play. Though staying close right to the end, the Mustangs never again came closer than four points as the Warriors charity shooting kept the game out of reach.

Taking advantage of cold 24 per cent Mustapg shooting accuracy in the first half, Maine West took a 23-13 lead to the lockerroom at halftime. The two clubs played to a 14-14 third period standoff.

Meadows' big center Bill Wissen gave the Warriors the most trouble, manhandling West's Buddy Doroskin

Alston happy despite headaches

Basehall managers in springtime make Pollyanna look like a manic depressive and Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm an old sour-

You take the manager of a team which finished 20 games out of the lead last year, and-has just lost a 19-game winning pitcher who led the league in games started, complete games and innings pitched last year. His left fielder is coming off an ankle injury, his shortstop off a knee injury, his slugging catcher broke his left arm slugging a pitcher with his fist, his Cy Young pitcher slumped from 106 appearances to 57.

You would think you would find this guy hanging off a rafter by his belt, or poised on a Spring St. ledge holding up traffic. But, you would think Walter Alston was going into the season with the 1927 Yankees this year, with a set lineup of home-run hitters, a 20-game starting rotation, and the sure knowledge that Johany Bench is going to join a menastery next year.

The Dodgers ranked ninth in the league in hits and batting average last year. They scored 150 fewer runs than the year before. The team made 127 errors, well short of San Diego's 188, but well over Cincinnati's 102.

Leo Durocher would put the team on a bus with a note pinned to it Branch Rickey would mutter about "rebuilding."

Walter Alston thinks he's going to the World Series. "In the first place," he says, "we had 50 on the injured list last season. Unless we get hit by a bus, we've got to do better than that. Our pitching is the best in baceball with Andy Messersmith, and without him still among the best."

To make up 20 games on the Reds, you would think Alston would need one more Messersmith, not one less. Sparky Anderson was 108 games for Cinciunati last year with a bunck of flye-imping pitchers, Aluton won 88 with a staff that threw 51 complete games. The Reds' bullpen consisted of a seemingly endless procession of free-wheeling young flame-throwers, each one faster than the one who just left. Alsten's bullpen retired to his home on Aug. 31 with cracked

To understand Walt Alston, you first have to understand that he comes from Smalltown, U.S.A., a place where his Age of Negativism has not yet taken over.

Darrtown, Ohio, pop. 200, is not even in the encyclopedia atlases. They're tearing up the streets in Darrtown right now, which they do with a rake and a wheelbarrow. It just means that the cows have to use alternate routes.

ing champ Trizzino.

Walter Alston has managed the Dodgers since the first Eisenhower Administration. He has managed to keep his footing on Broadway as well as on the Sunset Strip. He has never asked for a raise in his life. He never shows with an agent and a complicated plan for deferred income, stock options, "security." He doesn't particularly want to be rich, he'd rather be healthy. He puts his money in horses, not nightclubs.

Managers don't have to declare themselves free agents, they are already. Since Alston has never had more than a one-year contract and handshake, you have to think he has been in a position to double his income from time to time. Clubs have been happy to take his conches as managers at more money than Alsten m and you have to think they would be glad to take Alston.

None of this bothers Walter Alston. A man who has been summoned to his phone in the dead of night to be told, "Roy Campanella just broke his back in an accident," or "Koufax just retired," or "We just signed Richie Allen," or even "Koufax's finger has Reynaud's disease" is not going to want to cancel the year just because he hears "Andy Messersmith has just been declared a free agent." Alston has lost 19 games over the winter before. "It's not the winters that bother me, it's the summers," says Alston.

At least, that's one place the courts can't touch -- the manager's

May, Dantley top UPI All-America

The baskethall-mad state of Indiana was well represented on the United Press International All-America college basketball team Tuesday with the selection of Indiana's Scott May and Kent Benson and Noire Dame's Adrian Dantley.

Joining them on the 1976 All-America team were Maryland guard

John Lucas and UCLA's 6-11 Rich Washington. May, Dantley and Lucas each made the All-America team last season, while Benson, the only homogrown Housier on the first team, and Washington are juniors, giving them the opportunity to repeat their achievement next year.

The second team consists of Rutgers' Phil Sellers, North Carolina's Phil Ford and Mitch Kupchak, Tennessee's Bernard King and Marquette's Earl Tatum.

Chosen to the third team were Tennessee's Ernie Grunfeld, Michigan State's Terry Furlow, North Carolina State's Kenny Carr, Alabama's Leon Douglas and Oregon's Ron Lee.

The first team clearly was a consensus choice, its five members far outdistancing the rest of the field in a balloting of sports writers and sportscasters from across the nation.

May and Dantley tied for most points in the balloting with 288 apiece. Voters were asked to select two teams with two points awarded a player named to the first team and one point given for a second team mention.

May and Benson led the top-ranked Hoosiers to their second straight undefeated regular season, without nearly as impressive a supporting cast as the previous year.

Santee skates to fourth

David Santee of Park Ridge, Ill. was not too worried Tuesday about placing fourth in the compulsory figures for the men's world figure skating title in Goteborg, Sweden.

Instead, Santee expressed more concern about his appearance for Wednesday's short program.

In the opening phase of the title program, Santee was locked in a hattle for third place with 1974 world champion Jan Hoffman of East Germany. Although the 18-year-old American had a better score - 43.32 points to Hoffman's 43.28 - the East German had a lower ordinal score which usually determines the position.

"Somehow I got third in each of the three figures, but ended up fourth," sald Santee. "Now I have to go out and get a haircut before the short program."

Asked if he was going to find a local barber, Santee said, "There is an American traveling with our team who does haircuts on the

At the winter Olympics, Santee finished sixth, while Terry Kubicks of Cypress, Callf., was seventh.

Kubicka is currently in seventh place after the school figures, a considerable improvement over his showing in that section at the Olympics. He was only 11th then, but moved up, especially with his free skating which includes his specialty, the back somersault.

Mike Ondina and Bob Palmer hit home runs Tuesday in a Chicago White Sox intrasquad game in which the Bob Oliver's beat the Cleon Jones' 5-2 in Sarasota, Fla.

Willie Crawford for Ted Sizemore

The Dodgers traded outfielder Willie Crawford to St. Louis Tues-National League for Los Angeles in 1969.

Crawford, a 12-year veteran, came to the Dodgers out of high school and has played his entire career with them. He never reached the superstar status predicted for him and his lifetime batting average is .258. He hit .258 last season.

Sizemore, a seven-year veteran, hit .271 in his rookie year, and had a .306 average the next season. He was traded to St. Louis with catcher Bob Stinson for slugger Dick Allen who stayed with the Dodgers only one year.

Portland rocks Bulls

The Portland Trail Blazers repeatedly turned back mild second half threats by the visiting Chicago Bulls late Tuesday night and stormed to an impressive 116-105 victory in National Basketball Assn. play. The Bulls closed to within six late in the third period and trailed by only eight at the break, 83-75, but Portland ran off six straight points at the outset of the fourth period and rolled in with the triumph.

In the opening half Portland shot out to a 30-24 lead after one period and then exploded, whipping the Bulls on the fast break and building up a 64-46 advantage at the intermission.

The aggressive Trail Blazers had their running game operating perfectly in that opening half and featured a balanced attack paced by Geoff Petrie and Lionel Hollins with 12 each. Larry Steele

Mickey Johnson took scoring honors for sluggish Chicago in that first half with 13. Jack Marin tossed in 10 and John Laskowski

The club was purchased from Horace Stoneham and his National Exhibition Co. and it will remain in San Francisco with Lurie owning 51 per cent and Herseth 49 per cent.

Left out in the cold was sportsman Bob Short, who had sought to buy the club in partnership with Lurie but was not acceptable to the other 11 club ewners in the National League. One report had it that the club owners didn't like that partnership because Short's 25 per cent was in paper and not in each.

Lurie and Short, who once owned the basketball Lakers and the American League Senators-Rangers, had been given approval by the N.L. at a meeting in Chicago last week but several unnamed conditions were imposed on them along with a March I deadline to complete the purchase.

Ryun to retire from competition.

Distance runner Jim Ryun, who owned world records but never an Olympic gold medal, plans to announce his retirement from competition, UPI learned Tuesday.

A 10 a.m. news conference was set Wednesday at the University of Kansas in Lawrence where Ryun enjoyed his better days as a runner. He spent the past winter there, working to get in shape for the upcoming International Track Association season.

Contacted at his Lawrence home about the news conference, the 28-year-old Ryun said: "For the only time in my life, I'd rather not say anything yet. We are going to have a news conference tomorrow and I will make a major announcement at that time."

ST. VIATOR BOWS OUT

Maine North used some fine outside shooting to knock St. Viator out of the Wheeling Regional Tournament Tuesday night, 66-65.

After trailing 7-2 in the opening minutes of the contest, Maine North's full court press swung the momentum in the Norsemen's favor. En route to taking the lead for good, they hit nine straight field goals and four for four from the foul line.

During the final two minutes of the first quarter and through the first four minutes of the second, the Norsemen outscored the St. Viator Lions 20-4 to take a lopsided 26-11 advantage. Many of those nine field goals came from the 15-to 20-foot range.

The Norsemen enjoyed a 30-19 halftime lead. They increased it to 46-33 after three quarters.

St. Viator cut the lead to 60-53 late in the final period on a three-point play by Steve Notaro, but the Norse-men held on for their 13th win against as many losses. St. Viator finished at Sophomore foward Paul Wiloff led the Lions with 21 points and 17 rebounds with Notaro chipping in with 15 points. St. Viator star center Glen Birard was held to just seven points. Scott Mohr and Mike Abraham each had 18 for Maine. North will meet Wheeling tonight at 8:30.

Ice revue coming again

The Chicago Figure Skating Club's third annual "Stars on Ice Revue," one of the most popular and successful amateur ice skating shows in any locale, is slated for May 14, 15 and 16 at Randhurst Twin Ice Arena, Mount Prospect, according to CFSC President Joseph L. Serafine.

Produced in conjunction with Randhurst Twin Ice Arena (headquarters of the Chicago Figure Skating Club), the show features some of America's leading amateur skaters and hundreds of talented local skaters. Almost 20,000 persons attended performances of the '74 and '75 events at the northwest suburban Randhurst skating facility, which has permanent seating for 2,500 spectators.

"Last year we had overflow or near-capacity audiences at all four reserved-seat performances," said Serafine. "As a result, we are adding a Sunday evening performance to our two evening and two matinee pro-

The official standard will be given in the March issue of Pure Bred Dogs -American Kennel Gazette. If you own a Dane and are interested, here's your chance to find out what the dog should look like.

If the dog is full grown and does not check out to the standard, don't worry. After all a Great Dane is a Great Dane, just like any other breed. You can find large, small, funny marking, this, that and the other, but still in your eyes, the best is yours. Daimatian Fun Match-

Chlcagoland Dalmatian Club is holding its annual winter fun match on Saturday, March 7, at the Wheeling Park District Building, 222 S. Wolf Rd., Wheeling.

There will be puppy and adult conformation classes, as well as a sweepstakes, obedience, junior showmanship and ladies and men's handling

Registration will be from 10 to 11:45 a.m., with judging starting at noon. For more information, contact Robert Schalund at 312-629-5572. Look like a Terrier—

The Weish Terrier Club of Northern Illinois is sponsoring a series of classes on how to strip a Terrier for both show and just plain around the home.

To be held on Sunday afternoons, from 1 to 4 p.m., classes will begin March 7, at the Preser Animal Hospital, 2975 Milwaukee Ave., Northbrook. There will be four class sessions at a cost of $20.

Owners of Airedales, wires and Schnauzers, are also welcome. If you need information, call the chairman of the event, Joanne Ainsworth at 312-945-0918.

Rand Park Dog Training— Don't ferget, Rand Park Dog Training Club starts its classes on a new day beginning Friday.

For information, contact Mrs. Sandy Marines, at 3330 N. Oleander, Chicago, Ill., 60634.

The evening classes will be held at the Rand Park Field House in Des Plaines. International K.C.-

International K.C. closing date is March 10 with all entries received at the show superintendent's office in Auburn, Ind., by noon.

If you need some last minute information, contact the kennel club at 4300 S. Halsted, Chicago, Ill. 60609. Telephone is 312-927-5580.

Academy takes Junior Open title

The American Academy of Gymnastics Inc. girls team captured their third consecutive team title in the Junior Midwest Open Girls Gymnastics Championships. The Academy's 207.15 score topped Eiche Turner of Olympia Fields, Ill. (204.40).

Ninety-seven gymnasts represented 26 gymnastic teams throughout the United States. Each girls score was determined by combining the USGF Advanced compulsory and optional Christa Canary of Northbrook led her teammates to victory by capturing the all-around title with a score of 71.40 points. Christa won first place on vaulting with an astounding 18.80, points. She danced to first place on floor exercise with 17.85 and settled for third place on the uneven bars with 18.05.

Shelly Miller of Niles was awarded the silver bracelets for second place on the uneven bars with 18.10 and on floor exercise (17.50). Shelly placed seventh in the all-around with 69 10.

Helping their teammates to win were Nina Dziem and Sue Koch of Des Plaines, Kerrie Tanner and Tammy Chung of Arlington Heights and Jackie Pakis.

Guaranteed challenge:

If you're a young person looking for some real challenge, now's the time to look into the Army. From electronics to carpentry, from cooks to combat arms, the Army today has more challenging opportunities to offer than anyone.

361 a month 1

Army pay is better than ever. And with free meals, free lodging, and free medical and dental care, you'll be surprised how far that pay will go.

ob-training courses

Ever wonder where to get that "experience necessary" the classified ads always ask for? A good place is the Army. With hundreds of job-training courses. the Army can teach you skills you'll be glad to have later on.

Educational opportu

Whether it's finishing high school or earning college credits, being in the Army can help you. And if you sign up for the Army's newest educational program, Project Ahead, you'll be able to start college at the same time you enlist—with the Army paying up to 75% of your tuition and fees for approved courses.

Travel opportunities

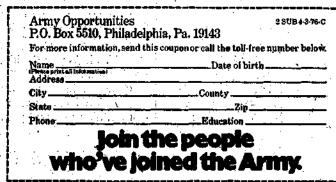

Joining the Army can mean a chance to work and live in Europe, Alaska, Hawaii, Korea, Panama or almost anywhere in the continental U.S.

oin now, go later

You can do just that -join now and report up to nine months later with the Army's special Delayed Entry Program. A terrific option for high school seniors and others with unfinished business ahead of them.

First come, first serve.

To find out which opportunities are open and to have the best chance of getting. the one you want, see your Army Representative now. The address and phone number are listed in the Yellow Pages under "Recruiting."

Volume swelled to 25,950,000 shares from the 22,070,000 traded Monday, the slowest trading in about two months on the NYSE. Despite the increased volume, analysts noted the turnover still fell below the January-February pace of approximately 30 million daily.

BUYING ACCELERATED during the afternoon when short-term money rates declined, indicating the Fed's new target was lower than at first feared. The Fed tightened credt a bit recently by allowing short-term rates to rise sharply.

Analysts were encouraged that despite the recent rise in yields on shortterm money instruments, traders who had lately cashed in on January's NewLowTar Entry Packs Taste Of Cigarettes Having 60% More Tar.

'Enriched Flavor' idea succeeds-increases taste of new 9 mg. tar MERIT without the usual increase in tar.

You can write today for a study conducted by the American Institute of Consumer Opinion for Philip Morris showing new MERIT delivers as Brands having up to 60% more tar than MERIT!

The reason is 'Enriched Flavor'. An extraordinary taste find developed and perfected after years of research at our Richmond Research Center.

And it's only in MERIT. At 9 mg., lower in tar than 98% of all cigarettes sold today.

If you smoke—you'll be interested.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was tastetested against five current leading low tar brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself, tested at home*

The results were conclusive.

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar than MERIT, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste. In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much -or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette.

History buff has a new cause for Honest Abe

You probably understand or have at least heard the concept behind "changing neighborhoods.

That is where everything goes to pot.

Dead birds lie in the street. Trash blows around. A person can't leave home at night for fear of bodily harm. And kids want to steal things from school, like chalk, erasers and dictionaries so they can study better.

Pretty soon, the situation is so deteriorated that even all the people who have jobs want to leave their beloved "changing neighborhood."

REINHARDT LUEBBERS, who would bring Abraham Lincoln to the Northwest suburbs, and still might, remembers a Schaumburg in wheh people passed on the street and said bello. It was a nice

Now, Reinhardt sits at the kitchen table in his home (soon to be plowed under by Schaumburg Road widening) and worries that Schaumburg has become . . (gusp!) . . . a "changing neigh-borhood."

It's no funny matter. Just down the street from Luebbers' home east of Roselle Road, someone sorts of damage.

"IT'S UNFORTUNATE we have to live in an area where it's gone to that," said Reinhardt, who is president of the Schaumburg Historical Society and seeks to bring a 64-foot, 10-ton statue of Lincoln north from Charleston.

"Just a few years ago, we didn't have all that," Reinhardt said Monday morning while inhaling coffee and cigarets. "And you don't hear of half the breakins. People don't even report them. About three weeks ago, Reinahrdt saw footprints in the back leading up to his house, then away. "I assume they saw the sign and went away," he said.

The sign, black letters on white board, sits on his back porch. It says "WARNING - Break into the building and it will be the last one you ever will. Go ahead -Try it - Punks."

THERE IS NO MORE. But people leave him alone, too.

And what is the cause of this unbealthy climate which Reinkardt says has fallen upon Schaumburg.

Criteria for land gifts meeting topic

Restrictions on the type of land that developers may donate for schools or parks in Buffalo Grove will be discussed at a joint meeting of the village board and park district.

Robert Bogart, village trustee and Buffalo Grove needs a "legal, official definition" to work from when requiring developers to donate a percentage of land for school and park sites. Under a current village resolution, developers must either donate land or pay a flat fee of $25,000 per acre for land slated for schools or parks use.

"We have to negotiate between the village board and the park board just what 'usable land' really is," Bogart said. "We're trying to avoid the mistakes that we've made in the past and good quality."

THE BUFFALO Grove Park District approved park donation guidelines last week, which park district officials said will prevent donations from becoming a "maintenance liabil-

State facility urged in Lake County

The construction of a $1.8 million state office building in Lake County has been proposed by State Sen. Bill Morris, D-Waukegan.

Morris sent a letter to Gov. Daniel Walker suggesting a 45,000-square-foot building be constructed in Waukegan to consolidate state agencies within Morris said the building would pay for itself within eight years.

Morris wants the item included in the fiscal 1977 state budget.

The park district guidelines were approved after the director of parks and recreation reported that a third of the nearly 20 acres obtained by the district since 1971 is comprised of slopes and stream beds that are rance problems. Bogart said he was "pleased" the park district has formulated guidelines, but said the final decision whether to accept land is up to the village board.

Village Trustee Clarice Rech said she was concerned about "what hanpens to land that the park district doesn't want to accept - who will take over responsibility for maintenance of that property?

"WE'RE DEALING with some real loaded questions," Mrs. Rech said. "If the village winds up maintaining these areas, it will be very expensive especially in Lake County, where you're dealing with a lot of poor soil conditions."

Trustee Thomas Mahoney said, The issue is what we are going to take as usable land. It may be unrealistic to say we won't take anything that isn't 100 per cent buildable."

Bogart said he was contacting park district officials this week and would try to set up a meeting next week, or possibly at the park district meeting

Levitt drops project, cites cash, timing

Plans for a 61-acre single-family development in Lake County were dropped recently by Levitt and Sons Inc. because of "economics and timing," the firm's engineer said.

Harry Sleek said plans for the 155 single-family homes were dropped because "further economic studies showed us we just weren't getting enough single-family lots to justify the expense of building.

The site is in Buffalo Grove north of III. Rie. 83, one mile east of Ill. Rte. 53 and directly south of Aptakisic Road. Levitt received permission to build 292 townhouse units in 1973, but requested the change to single-family homes to meet changing market demands, Sleek said.

"WE HAD ORIGINALLY requested 168 single family lots, but after preliminary discussions with the plan commission, it was cut back to 155," Sleek said. "When you tie that to the additional park donation requirement, it just wasn't economically feasible for us to continue."

Sleek said "the timing seemed to be off" between Levitt and various village, park and school agencies. He said part of the firm's decision to drop their plans was because "it would have been another one or two months before we could get an indication of acceptance or rejection by the village.

The "major expense" of flood plain improvements and construction of sanitary sewer lift stations dictated that Levitt add more dwelling units, Sleek said. Because construction was limited to 155 units, the single-family plan "just couldn't go through at this time," he said.

"We will probably go into a holding pattern for six months to a year," Sleek said. "We'll consider building townhouses on the property eventually, but the market for that type of development isn't good right now."

THE PROPOSED LEVITT development was to have been located next to another single-family development by Surety Builders of Bolingbrook. The two developers have worked together regarding adjoining aras and school site donations, but the vice president of Surety said Levitt's pull out made "no difference at all" in the firm's plans for the proposed Camelot subdivision.

Edward Fabish, village president, sald he believed Levitt's decision could have been avoided by "a streamlining of the various commission and committee meetings so that there isn't such a time lag.'

"I think we need to give the developers a yes or no answer in a reasonable amount of time," Fabish said. "I don't mean to give them an open door, but I think we could iron out some of the problems by a joint meeting of village, park and school offi-

Jackson's win, though close, was impressive. He rode a heavy labor sentiment and antibusing feelings in urban neighborhoods to outdistance his opposition and he said the win might lead to a landslide in the vital New York primary in April.

Ford, who barely slipped to victory last week in New Hampshire, soundly defeated the former California governnor in Massachusestts and delivered a landslide against a Reagan write-in effort in Vermont.

The Massachusetts results were a clear defeat for most Democratic liberals. Only one, Rep. Morris Udall of Arizona, appeared likely to finish in the top four. It alsos howed a strong vote for antibusing candidates Jackson himself, Gov. George Wallace of Alabama and Carter, who says he opposes busing as a means of achieving desegregation.

'Jaws' star leaves show; theater to sue Dreyfuss

RICHARD BREYFUSS

The 28-year-old Dreyfuss left the play because he was unhappy over critics' reviews panning the production, Karen Alton, publicist for the Arlington Park Theatre, said Tuesday...

"There was tremendous (critical) disappointment with Mr. Dreyfuss. Attendance at the theater was not bealthy. And that does something to the vanity of an actor who thought he was achieving super star status," she

DREYFUSS WAS not available for comment Tuesday. His agent in Hollywood, Calif., confirmed that the actor has left "Miss Julie," but declined further comment.

Ms. Alton said the theater will seek to recover the financial losses it has suffered by canceling the play that was scheduled to run through March

"Charges will definintely be placed against Mr. Dreyfuss resulting in a personal lawsuit against him," she Dreyfuss played the shark expert "Hooper" in "Jaws," the biggest grossing film in motion picture history. He personally selected August Strindberg's "Miss Julie" for production at Arlington Park.

Shows were canceled Friday night and Sunday after the actor refused to go on stage, Ms. Alton said.

The resolution supports a Chamber of Commerce letter sent to the program's producers last week, officially indicating Buffalo

Grove's interest in participating on the game show.

Trustees John Marienthal and Clarice Rech co-sponsored the measure, which would put Buffalo Grove against other small towns in an effort to win a regional-competition. If the program's producers choose Buffalo Grove, it could be "lights, camera, action" by next summer, Marienthal said.

Road work map OKd

A detailed map of the 1.7-mile portion of Arlington Heights Road that will be widened to four lanes has been reviewed and approved by the village board.

The Buffalo Grove portion of the road is south of the intersection of Arlington Heights Road and Ill. Rte. 83 to Lake Cook Road. The stretch is included in plans to make Arlington Heights Road four lanes from Elk Grove Villagetothe Ill. Rte. 83 intersection. Cnlanes from Elk Grove Village to the Ill. Rte. 83 intersection. Construction could start as early as late 1977 or early 1978. Seventy per cent of the $1.8 million project will be funded by the federal government, 20 per cent by Lake County, and 10 per cent by Buffal Grove, said Daniel Larson, village manager.

Village opens accounts

Several savings accounts with the Buffalo Grove National Bank have been approved by the village board.

Village Treasurer James Shirley said the accounts were relatively small ones from the village water fund that were not sufficient to invest in other types of accounts. The village divides its accounts between the Bank of Buffalo Grove and the Buffalo Grove National Ordinances adopting the 1975 National Electrical Code and the One and Two Family Dwelling Code have been deferred by the village board until clarification on their provisions are received.

The One and Two Family Dwelling Code is an update of a code that has been approved by several national building associations, said Village Mgr. Daniel Larson.

The board asked that the village staff review the wording of both the ordinances so that in case of conflict with earlier codes, the more restrictive code shall apply.

History buff has a new cause for Honest Abe

You probably understand or have at least heard the concept behind "changing neighborboods."

That is where everything goes to pot.

Dead birds lie in the street. Trash blows around. A person can't leave home at night for fear of bodily harm. And kids want to steal things from school, like chalk, erasers and dictionaries so they can study better.

Pretty soon, the situation is so deteriorated that even all the people who have jobs want to leave their beloved "changing neighborhood."

REINHARDT LUEBBERS, who would bring Abraham Lincoln to the Northwest suburbs, and still might, remembers a Schaumburg in whch people passed on the street and said hello. It was a nice place to live.

Folks were friendly. Only on the rarest day would a Schaumburg farmer steal a furrow from another farmer's field. It just wasn't

Now, Reinhardt sits at the kitchen table in his home (soon to be plowed under by Schaumburg Road widening) and worries that Schaumburg has become . . . (gasp!) . . . a "changing neigh-

the street from Luebbers' home east of Roselle Road, someone broke into a house and caused all sorts of damage.

"IT'S UNFORTUNATE we have to live in an area where it's gone to that," said Reinhardt, who is president of the Schaumburg Historical Society and seeks to bring a 64-foot. 10-ton statue of Lincoln north from Charleston.

"Just a few years ago, we didn't have all that," Reinhardt said Monday morning while inhaling coffee and cigarets. "And you don't hear of half the breakins. People don't even report them.

About three weeks ago, Reinahrdt saw footprints in the back leading up to his house, then away. "I assume they saw the sign and went away," he said.

The aign, black letters on white board, sits on his back porch. It says "WARNING - Break into the building and it will be the last one you ever will. Go shead -Try it - Punks."

THERE 18 NO MORE, But people leave him alone, too.

And what is the cause of this unhealthy climate which Reinhardt says has fallen upon Schaumburg.

He points east to Woodfield Mall, that First Wonder of Golf Road where dollars are forever going, going, gone! It's bringing out all the wrong element, he said,

Now, Schaumburg's identity is gone, said Reinhardt. People thought so big, and were fast t a l k e d by developers whom Reinhardt calls "$300 million jokers," that they forgot about the town. He said all anyone ever hears about is Woodfield. "Go someplace, anywhere within 200 miles. They'll say, Schaumburg, where is that?" Reinhardt said.

"IT DOESN'T take much for a person to figure out the old feeling of Schaumburg friendliness that existed before Woodfield is gone," he said. "We're all strangers, ex-

150 parents, teachers hit Dist. 63 cuts

· More than 150 parents and teachers turned out at the East Maine Dist. 63 Board of Education meeting Tuesday to protest budget cuts totaling more than $1 million for the 1976-77 school Teachers also picketed before the board meeting outside Apollo Junior High School. They carried signs saying, "In the numbers game, kids sure don't win," and "Don't cut teachers." Others chanted, "Gogo says we are the best. When he cuts programs, we don't rest," referring to School Supt. G. Allan Gogo.

"We feel that the board has made unnequesary cuts," said Barbara Korb, teachers' union president.

Jackson's win, though close, was impressive. He rode a heavy labor sentiment and antibusing feelings in urban neighborhoods to outdistance his opposition and he said the win might lead to a landslide in the vital New York primary in April.

Ford, who barely slipped to victory last week in New Hampshire, soundly defeated the former California governnor in Massachusestts and delivered a landslide against a Reagan write-in effort in Vermont.

The Massachusetts results were a clear defeat for most Democratic liberals. Only one, Rep. Morris Udall of Arizona, appeared likely to finish in the top four. Other teachers on the picket line said morale in the school is low because of the cuts. "They want us to do a good job, but how can we with this hanging over our heads," said a nontenured teacher who expects to be

During the board meeting, Karen Smith, Stevenson School teacher, said teachers at that school were concerned that their social worker would be cut because she was hired this year. "Stevenson has replaced six social workers in the last eight years. The children can only suffer greatly from another change in personnel,"

Sue Hendricks, Apollo teacher, said a board member told her that the junior reading program would not be cut, but has since been told by the administration that the program would be affected, Currently, all junior high students have reading, but next year will be tested to determine whether they will have a reading class, she said.

BOARD PRES Ariene Nidetz said the board anticipates facing deficit budgets during the next several years if no cuts are made. "It is possible to live with a deficit one year, but what if it continues? Each year you compound the deficit. The board decided it did not want to work with a deficit and decided certain economies had to be made," she said.

The girl. Kathleen Baudin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gladney, was pronounced dead about 6:15 p.m. at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge. She died despite attempts by paramedics and hospital personnel to Authorities said the girl had been sniffing the fumes from a towel that had been doused with the spray.

Des Plaines Fire Dept. Capt. Michael Buckley said the parents were not home at the time but another girl, age 14, was reportedly with her at the time and was taken to Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines.

It was unknown if the other girl also was inhaling the fumes, but a hospital representative said she appeared to be "fine" when brought in and was released.

Buckley said the fire department was alerted when an unidentified caller telephoned them about 4:28 p.m. and said her friend had "passed out"

by JUDY JOBBITT

The Des Plaines Dist. 62 Board of Education has approved eliminating 20 teachers sand all guidance counselors and nurses as part of cutbacks totaling $701,884 for the 1976-77 budg-

The administration this week presented a detailed list of possible budget reductions in the education fund for next year to help offset an anticipated $1.4 million deficit. The board directed the administration to prepare the 1976-77 budget with the proposed cutbacks.

Staff cuts presented included cutting 17 classroom teachers which would increase class size from 22.8 to 24 students in the elementary schools. The board also voted to cut one physical education, one Spanish and one vocal music teacher in the elementary schools as well as the district's three permanent substitute BUT BECAUSE OF declining enrollment in the district, administrators said the physical education, Spanish and vocal music programs will not be affected. The elementary and special teacher cuts would save the district about $276,000. The district also expects to save about $15,000 because two kindergarten aides used this year will not be needed next fall and a teacher on sabbatical leave will not return. The four nurses in the district also were eliminated and will be replaced with three nurses aldes at a savings of $55,623. The nurses aides' salaries would total about $10,000 and a physician would be retained by the district for supervisory and emergency help.

THE BOARD ALSO approved eliminating the guidance staff and replacing the three counselors with psychological interns which would save $33,757. Reducing the number of social workers from seven to six and speech teachers from six to five for a savings of about $16,100, was also approved

Because of declining enrollment, the ability teachers could be cut, leaving the district with 18 for a savings of $26,278.

The board also agreed to save $277,050 through cutbacks in administration and other nonsalary areas including:

· Cutting $2,000 from the budget for part-time and overtime pay in the central administration office and cutting $2,000 from administration supplies, postage and travel. • Saving $16,800 by limiting the number of professional leaves granted teachers for attending meetings, conferences and conventions.

• Cutting $2,000 from the budget for substitute clerks and secretaries • Saving $900 by limiting the num-

'Jaws' star leaves show; theater to sue Dreyfuss

RICHARD DREYFUSS

Arlington Park Theatre plans to sue actor Richard Dreyfuss, star of the motion picture "Jaws," for walking out on the production of "Miss Julie" at the race track theater.

The 28-year-old Dreyfuss left the play because he was unhappy over critics' reviews panning the production, Karen Alton, publicist for the Arlington Park Theatre, said Tuesday.

"There was tremendous (critical) disappointment with Mr. Dreyfuss. Attendance at the theater was not healthy. And that does something to the vanity of an actor who thought he was achieving super star status," she

DREYFUSS WAS not available for comment Tuesday. His agent in Hollywood, Calif., confirmed that the actor has left "Miss' Julie," but declined further comment.

Ms. Alton said the theater will seek to recover the financial losses it has suffered by canceling the play that was scheduled to run through March

"Charges will definiately be placed against Mr. Dreyfus resulting in a personal lawsuit against him," she Dreyfuss played the shark expert "Hooper" in "Jaws," the biggest grossing film in motion picture history. He personally selected August Strindberg's "Miss Julie" for production at Arlington Park.

Shows were conceled Friday night and Sunday after the actor refused to go on stage, Ms. Alton said.

ney, said the suit charges negligence and that the cars driven by Lucty and Hrabi were traveling at an unsafe speed.

THE TWO LAWSUITS stemming from the collision probably will not be resolved for at least four years, Hoffman said.

Des Plaines Police Lt. Mike Clark Tuesday-said a Niles police report shows Hrabi was eastbound on Dempster Street when he crossed the center line of the street and collided head-on with the westbound car driven by Waldman. Miss Galler was dead on arrival at Lutheran General Hospital.

Clark said Lucty tried to curb Hrabi in Des Plaines after he apparently went through a red light. The chase began after Hrabi, who had just left a party in Des Plaines, refused to puil over his auto.

Although Luety chased Hrabi for a distance, Clark said, the patrolman stopped chase before the collision because of the high rate of speed. The suit charges all parties with driving at excessive speeds.

Joseph Hrabi pleaded guilty to involuntary manslaughter Jan. 6 in connection with the accident, and was sentenced to three years felony probation by Criminal Court Judge Warren D. Wolfson.

The judge also ordered Hrabi to spend weekends at the Cook County House of Correction for the first six months of his sentence, assessed him $65 for court costs, suspended his driver's license for one year and ordered him to do volunteer work at a hospital three days a week for six months.

Village funds about to run out?

Elk Grove Village may run out of money for its basic budget needs for May and June.

Finance Director George C. Coney said Tuesday night there may not be enough funds to operate "for a month or a month and a half" before the end of this fiscal year, which ends June

"I've reviewed the revenues for next year, and we have a very critical period ahead of us," Coney told village board members during a judiciary, planning and zoning committee meeting.

Coney, however, did not give dollar amounts.

Trustee George T. Spees suggested the board somehow "put aside as a cushion" enough money to cover payroll needs for the period. He said he would not want the village to have to issue tax anticipation warrants. CONEY SAID EACH village payroll costs $129,000.

Most of Tuesday's meeting was a discussion with department heads of the zero-based budget system, which the village is instituting next year. Several departments did not submit priority lists for budget items as the committee expected.

"I think we have done an excellent job for the first shot around." Trustee Edward W. Kenna Jr. said, "We're convinced it is our obligation to make the most use of the information you have given us."

Each department made a priority list from which Village Mgr. Charles A. Willis will draft a master priority list by March 12. Each departmental function is listed as a separate priority, and new or expanded programs are included on the priority list.

THROUGH THIS budget system, it is possible for a new program to be given a higher priority than an existing program. "We give new ideas a chance at the dollars we have in the budget," Trustee Theodore J. Staddler

"We've got to recognize a new program and give it some value rating," Staddler said.

The village board will set up a schedule of budget hearings with each department head at its March 23 meeting. The hearings will be completed by April 15, giving the village board 10 days to consider salary increases, Staddler said.

Staddler said the board hopes to have the new budget approved before May 1. By law, the budget must be approved no later than the end of

Dist. 54 mulls $1.6 million cuts

The Schaumburg Township Dist. 54 administration presented to the board of education Tuesday $1.6 million in suggested budget cutbacks for 1976-77 that included elimination of afterschool activities and sports and reducing music, art and physical education programs.

The board made no final decisio on what items would be cut, but some board members and residents spoke in favor of deciding specifically what cutbacks will be made and then going back to the public for another tax rate increase referendum.

Sacred Heart High School

School activities, curriculum and finances at Sacred Heart of Mary High School, 2800 Central Rd., Rolling Meadows, will be discussed at a meeting for prospective students and their parents at 8 p.m. today and Thursday.

Parents will be asked to fill out a registration card and pay a $40 general fee at the information session. Bus transportation forms will also be available.

Booklets describing the freshman program will be distributed along with a sheet of course recommendations for each applicant. Recommendations are based on junior high experience and student scores on the January placement tests.

Appointments will be made for individual conferences to complete course selection. Conferences will be held from 3 to 5:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 9 p.m. March 8, 9 and 11.

Students interested in transferring to Sacred Heart of Mary also are invited to attend the meetings. Transfer students are asked to contact the school during March or April.

A contribution of $1,488.66 to the Campaign for Human Development has been made by Sacred Heart of Mary High School, Rolling Meadows.

The Catholic girls' school held a 12-hour dance-a-thon in November to raise money for the appeal. Students enlisted sponsors to pledge money for every hour that they danced. A total of 32 of the 34 couples danced the entire 12 hours with periodic rest breaks.

The largest pledge total, $417, was earned by Therese Bombera. Kathy Faul came in second with $330. Third place went to Judy O'Grady, fourth to Eva Lewandowski and fifth to Mike Maude.

Mount Prospect Dist. 57

Thelmo Tapia, an 18-year-old foreign exchange student from Cuenca, Ecuador, will visit with students at Lions Park School, Mount Prospect, March 29 and 30. Thelmo is attending Prospect High School and living with the John Welles family in Mount Prospect. His year in the United States is sponsored by the American Field Service.

Thelmo will appear in native costume, show art objects from Ecuador and accompany himself on the guitar while he sings Spanish songs. Appearing with Thelmo will be Beth Meredith, Arlington Heights, also a student at Prospect High School, who lived in Quito, Ecuador last summer under the American Abroad program sponsored by the American Field Service. She will share her experiences with a slide presentation.

High School Dist. 214

Students from Wheeling High School will attend a matinee performance of the Alvin Ailey City Center Dance Theatre today at the Auditorium Theater.

The matinee will feature a lecture/demonstration on modern dance, including excerpts from a number of Alvin Ailey's works. The modern dance company has been featured in concerts nationally and abroad.

Our Lady of the Wayside

Our Lady of the Wayside School's annual eighth grade science fair will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Thursday in the school gymnasium, 432 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights. The best project at the fair will be entered in competition at the regional fair at Wheeling High School.

Arlington Hts. Dist. 25

Students will be encouraged to participate in the demonstra-tion/concert performed by the Windy City Wind Ensemble Thursday at 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. at Westgate School, 1211 W. Grove St., Arlington Heights.

The ensemble will also introduce the wind section of the orchesmodern rock.

by United Press International

Sen. Henry M. Jackson rode strong labor support and antibusing sentiment to victory Tuesday in the Massachusetts Democratic primary, while President Ford made it a New England sweep with steamroller wins over Ronald Reagan in Vermont and Massachusetts.

In the Vermont Democratic primary, Jimmy Carter won an expected, easy victory over two liberal challengers and immediately predicted he would carry all 12 Green Mountain State delegates to the National convention in July in New York.

The twin primaries were hampered by a late winter storm that dumped nine inches of snow on parts of Vermont and forced three hamlets to postpone the voting pending digging out exercises.

Villages seek RTA testing grant

by PAT GERLACH

Schaumburg and Hoffman Estates hope to qualify as a demonstration area for the Regional Transportation Authority's proposal for a new type of transit system.

Fred Dietrich, Schaumburg transportation chairman, said he and Hoffman Estates Trustee Melvin Timmons have talked with RTA officials who have "indicated a possibility" of funding for shared-ride taxis and other small transit systems similar to those outlined in a recent consultants study commissioned by the villages.

Timmons is a representative to the joint village transportation committee

"Apparently there has been a change of RTA policy and they are now looking toward communities to put on a demonstration program and since we are one of the first communities with a professional study ready and waiting, we would hope they would address our application," Dietrich said.

RTA representative Richard Brazda Tuesday confirmed the agency's decision to provide funds for "a service development class of projects" after the July 1 fiscal year begins.

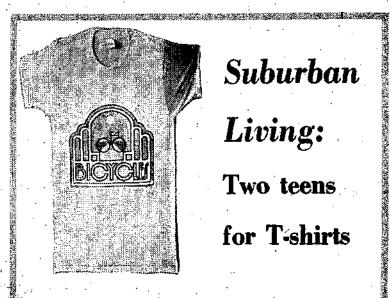

Brazda said specific sums of money for the service have not yet been discussed, adding "it would be a situation where local communities can initiate a service using shared ride taxis, senior citizens' buses and the

"THIS WOULD be on a project by project basis with the communities coming before the RTA board for approval, but we're not in a position to make any commitments until later in

Schaumburg Trustee Alan Larson recently criticized the apparent lack of progress in mass transit planning and urged Schaumburg officials to begin independent planning if more cooperation was not "forthcoming from Hoffman Estates."

The transportation committee meets tonight in the Great Hall, 231 S. Civic Dr., Schaumburg. The meeting is open to the public.

Boynton promoted to police sergeant

Robert Boynton has been promoted to sergeant in the Hoffman Estates Police Dept.

The village board unanimously approved Boynton for the eighth sergeant's position created by the board. The village has 43 police officers, including 32 patrolmen, 8 sergeants, 2 lieutenants and a

Poppin' Fresh plans OKd

The final site plan for a Poppin' Fresh Restaurant has been approved by the Village Board.

The restaurant, owned by Pillsbury Co. will be located on the corner of Jones and Higgins roads.

The board also approved a preliminary site plan and plat for Harper's Landing Unit 3 in the Westbury subdivision. Harper's Landing is a section of the 1,400 unit Westbury development between Freeman and Palatine roads.

The site is next to Mumford Drive in the complex.

Firm to audit village books

The annual village audit for Hoffman Estates will be handled by the firm of Karrison and Byrne at a cost not to exceed $8,500.

Storage facility OKd

The village board has approved a special use permit for American Self-Storage Centers, Inc. of Crystal Lake to allow a self-storage facility in the Barrington Square Industrial Park.

The storage center will be located on Pembroke Avenue north of Hassell Road.

Student obligations, rights code adopted

A Student Rights and Responsibilities Document drawn up by district high school students has been adopted by the High School Dist. 211 Board of Education.

The document outlines student rights and the responsibilities these rights entail. It includes First amendment rights such as freedom of expression; personal rights, such as protection of school records, and a dress code that states students may dress as they please but should use good judgment; and the right to file grievances if students feel they are being treated unfairly.

The document was presented to the board several weeks ago, but the board suggested that the legal terms used in the document be simplified so every high school student could understand it.

Nonvoting student plan defeated

A motion to allow a district student to sit on the board as a nonvoting member has been defeated.

The motion, proposed by board member Jody Albrecht and seconded by Jean Fisler, was a result of a discussion session between the board and district students. The students had suggested the appointment of a nonvoting student board member as a method of developing more student voice on the board.

The board asked Supt. Richard Kolze to investigate other methods of increasing student input.

The board also discussed setting up a board and administration committee after the April 10 board elections to look into curriculum suggestions made at the session.

New administrative post created

A new administrative position has been created.

The addition to the administration will be a "director of noninstructional operations" and will take effect July 1.

director's responsibilities will include coordination of the district office with outside agencies including those of the government; coordination of the athletic programs in the five district high schools, a position which has not been effective for the past five years; and eventual coordination of the district's building and grounds maintenance. Gerald Chapman, assistant to the superintendent, said government regulations have become so complex the district needs "an internal expert" on outside agencies. Chapman said the athletic program, particularly with the expansion of girls' athletics, needs more "in-depth coordination" than it has now.

Officials' base salary raised

The board raised the administrators' base salary from $1,500 to $19,900, an increase of 7.6 per cent, as the first step in an adjustment of the administrators' total salary schedule. The board will consider the rest of the schedule at a later meeting.

Coste asks unit to reduce his salary by $50

Schaumburg Village Mgr. John E. Coste has asked village finance committee members to shave $50 from the $29,000 salary they propose for him in the $8.8 million budget proposed for fiscal 1976-77.

"I won't accept anything more than what is being paid to the village de-partment heads, which amounts to a 6 per cent cost of living increase," Coste said.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS agreed with Coste and voted to recommend the village board approve a $1,500 increase, raising his salary to $28,950.

THE PROPOSED budget also includes a $100 longevity increase for the village manager. After five years of service, all village employes are eligible for a $300 annual longevity increase, though Finance Director Joseph Castor said the 1976-77 budget period only includes the first-quarter of the year.

Castor said the remaining $200 will be included in Coste's salary for the fiscal year beginning May 1, 1977.

Coste said 1976-77 expenditures of $8,810,000 have been proposed with anticipated revenues forecast at $8,837,000

With only a $27,000 float between the revenue side and the expenditure side, we are at a less than 1 per cent miss situation," Coste said.

THE NEW BUDGET reflects a less than 1 per cent increase over the $7.9 million budget for the current fiscal year. No increase in village property taxes are called for in the budget.

Also proposed is a $1,400 increase for Castor which would make his annual salary $23,850. The finance director is also eligible for the $100 first quarter payment of his longevity

The budget proposal also includes a $3,700 salary increase for J. C. Smith, public works director. The increase, if approved, would give Smith a $23,800 annual salary. He also is eligible for

Retain $18,000 budget for youth program: panel

Schaumburg finance committee members have recommended that the $18,000 budgeted last year for the Youth Outreach Program be maintained.

The program is conducted by the village in conjunction with Twinbrook YMCA who provides outreach workers and office space paid for with village funds.

The YMCA recently suggested $44,000 be budgeted to provide for an additional caseworker because of the apparent success of the program.

TRUSTEE JAMES Rogers said he opposes an increase because of a "personal hang-up" against govern-mental funding for "something no one in the village can check on."

Rogers said he also questions approximately 5 percent of the Outreach Program budget being used to pay YMCA administrative charges.

the $100 first-quarter payment of his longevity bonus.

Smith's salary was frozen at $20,100 last year after he and 21 other officials from 14 suburbs were charged in Cook County Grand Jury indictments with accepting payoffs from United Laboratories in return for purchases by their governmental agencies of paint, chemicals and supplies. Smith was found innocent of the charges March 26, 1975.

The finance committee is meeting this week to prepare for village trustees committee-of-the-whole meeting March 16 to discuss the budget.

Employes added to union lawsuit

Present Hoffman Estates public works employes have been named as additional defendants in a three-yearold lawsuit filed against the village by 28 former public works employes.

Village Atty. Edward Hofert said the move to add the present employes to the suit "theoretically" is to open jobs in case the former employes win the suit and want to return to work.

But Hofert said because of the three-year delay in the court proceedings, the present employes probably will be dropped from the legal action.

Trial action in the dispute between scheduled Thursday, has been delayed until Sept. 13.

Hofert said the delay was granted to allow summons to be served on present public works employes and because of illness of the wife of Thomas Duda, attorney for the former employes.

The employes, members of the union Local 2041, American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO, were fired in 1973 when they staged a strike to pro-test what they called stalled contract negotiations.

Officials said the firings took place because job actions are prohibited by the village. The suit seeks job reinsfor the former on though most have found other jobs since the firings.

Possible school closing rapped by 200 parents

More than 200 parents attended a public hearing Tuesday night to voice concern over the possible closing of Cardinal Drive School, 2300 Cardinal Dr., Rolling Meadows.

Parents were resentful because the district was in the midst of building a new school on the west side of the district and at the same time thinking about closing Cardinal Drive at the far east end. Many said they felt their tax dollars had been going to projects in other schools, while Cardinal Drive was being ignored. Walter Sundling, president of the Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15 board, said the board has not made a decision whether to close the school. "We're here with an open mind; we did not come here with a decision in our back pocket. We're here to get your input so that we can make that decision," he said.

THE DIST. 15 board has discussed closing the school to help offset a projected $2.2 million deficit in the 1976-77 budget. Cardinal Drive needs about $300,000 in renovations to bring it up to the statewide life safety codes schools must meet — a cost almost equal to the $385,630 of building the original school.

Cardinal Drive parent Pat Townsend asked why the district was building Jefferson School in Hoffman Estates, "instead of upgrading a school you already have?"

Paul Hanson, who presented a list of questions from the school's PTA, said, "It seems a disproportionate amount of money spent from our tax dollars have gone to other schools. Many people have felt that things were asked to be done over the years, have not been done and are now being held against Cardinal Drive. Now you're saying it's too expensive and can't be done.' Sundling said the district already on 10 schools and has three left to be completed, including Cardinal Drive.

DEPUTY SUPT. Joseph Kiszka said enrollment in the southwest portion of the district, where Jefferson is located, is growing and "has the greatest potential for growth." He said enrollment in the Cardinal Drive area was dropping.

Sundling said all schools needing

Library to seek employe funding

Rolling Meadows Public Library officials, in a cooperative venture with Rolling Meadows High School librarians, plan to seek a state grant allowing the libraries to share an employe.

Rolling Meadows librarian Judith Drescher Tuesday told board members final plans of the sharedstaffing grant proposal have been discussed with high school librarians Elena Hoffman and Esther Perica. "Successful passage of a tax rate increase referendum makes it possible for us to consider this application,"

"It now appears more than likely we will be able to work out the red tape involved with trying to have one person work in two places that have different hours, policies, and benefits," Mrs. Drescher said.

"I BELIEVE THE grant request will be well received since the development office appears anxious to develop a pilot project concerning cooperation between two different types of library agencies," she said.

Discussion of the two libraries sharing an employe began several months ago. Application had been postponed because the public library was not sure it could pay a portion of a new employe's salary.

Mrs. Drescher said the state grant would pay 100 per cent of the firstyear salary, 75 per cent the second year and 25 per cent the third.

Until our referendum was successful we did not know if we could participate in such a project," she said.

In other action: · Board Pres. Rodney Dahlin reported the referendum cost the library approximately $5,000 for rental of polling places, judges, advertising, printing and legal fees.

 As a continuation of Bicentennial programs, consumer items were displayed at the library throughout the month of February.

Displays featured last month were the American Legion of war memorabilia, sea shells and salt and pepper shakers and portraits of those U.S. Presidents born during January, February and March. This display will continue throughout the year with other presidents being added as their birthdays approach.

Arlington Park Theatre plans to sue actor Richard Dreyfuss, star of the motion picture "Jaws," for walking out on the production of "Miss Julie" at the race track theater.

Dist. 54 mulls $1.6 million in cuts

The Schaumburg Township Dist. 54 administration presented to the board of education Tuesday $1.8 million in suggested budget cutbacks for 1976-77 that included elimination of afterschool activities and sports and reducing music, art and physical education programs.

The board made no final decisio on what Items would be cut, but some board members and residents spoke in favor of deciding specifically what cutbacks will be made and then going back to the public for another tax rate increase referendum.

Voters Feb. 14 defeated a tax rate increase of 17.5 cents in the operations, building and maintenance fund and 30 cents in the education fund. The administration is projecting a $1.3 million budget deficit by 1977-78.

BOARD MEMBER Gordon Thoren suggested the board make a "full commitment" as to what items will be cut and then ask residents in another referendum before the end of this school year whether they would prefer the cutbacks or higher taxes.

That is where everything goes

Dead birds lie in the street. Trash blows around. A person can't leave home at night for fear of bodily harm. And kids want to steal things from school, like chalk, erasers and dictionaries so they can study better.

Pretty soon, the situation is so deteriorated that even all the people who have jobs want to leave their beloved "changing neighborhood."

REINHARDT LUEBBERS, who would bring Abraham Lincoln to the Northwest suburbs, and still might, remembers a Schaumburg in which people passed on the street and said hello. It was a nice

Now, Reinhardt sits at the kitchen table in his home (soon to be plowed under by Schaumburg Road widening) and worries that Schaumburg has become . . . (gasp!) . . . a "changing neighborhood."

It's no funny matter. Just down the street from Luebbers' home DROM SE broke into a house and caused all sorts of damage.

"IT'S UNFORTUNATE we have to live in an area where it's gone to that," said Reinhardt, who is president of the Schaumburg Historical Society and seeks to bring a 64-foot, 10-ton statue of Lincoln north from Charleston.

"Just a few years ago, we didn't have all that," Reinhardt said Monday morning while inhaling coffee and cigarets, "And you don't hear of helf the breakins. People don't even report agreed to continue reviewing a proposal requiring food stores to maintain individual item pricing if they adopt computerized checkout systems.

The communications and public relations committee this week said it will seek more reaction to the proposed legislation. A survey of homeowner associations will be made by the Palatine Advisory Board to determine whether the legislation is favored by residents.

The proposed ordinance would require food stores to mark prices on individual items. Consumer groups have voiced concern over the possibility that individual pricing will be eliminated in favor of a coding system used for a faster checkout sys-

RICHARD DREYFUSS

The committee began discussing the proposal in January, following a letter from the Citizens Council urging consideration of the legislation. At a public forum on the topic, many residents voiced support for a local ordinance to mandate item pricing.

Representatives from the Palatine Consumers Coalition criticized the committee for delaying action on a recommendation to the full board. Legislation is not premature. It is necessary and the only fair action for everyone," said Judy Goldstein, chairman of the coalition.

"The legislation is fair to people who run the supermarkets because they will know how we stand, and it is fair to consumers because it protects our right to know," Mrs. Goldstein added.

'Jaws' star leaves show; theater to sue Dreyfuss by KURT BAER

The 28-year-old Dreyfuss left the play because he was unhappy over critics' reviews panning the production, Karen Alton, publicist for the Arlington Park Theatre, said Tuesday.

"There was tremendous (critical) disappointment with Mr. Dreyfuss. Attendance at the theater was not healthy. And that does something to the vanity of an actor who thought he was achieving super star status," she Dreyfuss played the shark expert "Hooper" in "Jaws," the biggest grossing film in motion picture history. He personally selected August Strindberg's "Miss Julie" for production at Arlington Park.

Shows were canceled Friday night and Sunday after the actor refused to go on stage, Ms. Alten said.

Parents protest possible Cardinal school shutdown

by DOROTHY OLIVER

More than 200 parents attended a public hearing Tuesday night to voice concern over the possible closing of Cardinal Drive School, 2300 Cardinal Dr., Rolling Meadows.

Parents were resentful because the district was in the midst of building a new school on the west side of the district and at the same time thinking about closing Cardinal Drive at the far east end. Many said they felt their tax dollars had been going to projects in other schools, while Cardinal Drive was being ignored.

Walter Sundling, president of the Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15 board, said the board has not made a decision whether to close the school. "We're here with an open mind; we

The village goal for the year is 1,300 pints, which will ensure all village residents and their families a free supply of blood during the year. The village collected 236 pints at its first drive in January.

Blood drives are scheduled eight weeks apart because an eight-week interval is required between donations. To qualify for donating, a person must be between the ages of 17 and 66, weigh at least 110 pounds and be free of obvious cold, flu and sore throat symptoms at the time of dona-

Township, youth unit set meeting

The Palatine Township Youth Cornmittee will meet with the township board of auditors April 5 to discuss a three-year projection of youths' needs, township responsibilities and finances.

In a preliminary report to the auditors, the youth committee estimated its budget will expand $45,000 during the next four years, The committee estimated its 1977 budget at $145,000, nearly $10,000 more than its budget this year of $135,453.

The committee's executive officers have been working on the report since January. The finished report will include evaluations of Bridge programs and priorities.

The committee's tentative budget estimates are $145,000 for 1977; $165,660 for 1978; and $280,000 for both 1979 and 1980. The committee used a formula recently developed by the Illia Assu. of Youth Service Bureaus which suggests $3 per person.

The 1970 Palatine Township course was 40,000 persons.

Townskip Supervisor Heward Olsen said the youth committee accounted for "the biggest chunk" of the township's appropriations, and assured the committee the auditors were "very interested" in its programs and plans.

That is where everything goes

Dead birds lie in the street. Trash blows around, A person can't leave home at night for fear of bodily harm. And kids want to steal things from school, like chalk, erasers and dictionaries so they can study better.

Pretty soon, the situation is so deteriorated that even all the people who have jobs want to teave their beloved "changing neighborhood."

east of Roselle Road, someone broke into a house and caused all sorts of damage. "IT'S UNFORTUNATE we have to live in an area where it's gone to that," said Reinhardt, who is president of the Schaumburg Historical Society and seeks to bring a 64-foot, 10-ton statue of Lincoln north from Charleston.

"Just a few years ago, we didn't have all that," Reinhardt said Monday morning while inhaling coffee and cigarets. "And you don't bear of half the breakins. People don't even report them."

About three weeks ago, Reinahrdt saw footprints in the back leading up to his house, then away. "I assume they saw the sign and went away," he said. The sign, black letters on white board, sits on his back porch. It says "WARNING — Break into the building and it will be the last one you ever will. Go ahead -Try it - Punks."

THERE IS NO MORE. But people leave him alone, too.

And what is the cause of this unhealthy climate which Reinhardt says has fallen upon Schaumburg.

He points east to Woodfield Mail, that First Wonder of Golf Road where dollars are forever going, going, gone! It's bringing out all the wrong element, he said.

Officials rap village court branch

by LYNN ASINOF

The days of the Mount Prospect branch of the Cook County Circuit Court are numbered if two village officials have their way.

Trustee Leo Floros and Village Mgr. Robert J. Eppley Tuesday each said the court should be removed from the village's public safety building, 112 E. Northwest Hwy., because of massive parking problems.

The matter is to be investigated by the board's fire and police committee at its April meeting.

"IT SEEMS TO ME on the surface of it, it would be a good idea to move it out of here," Floros said.

"But I don't know that much about it. I don't know what our obligations

Flores said discussion was prompted by a letter from Max Ulrich, manager of Van Driel's Medical-Surgical Supply, 100 E. Northwest Hwy. In his letter, Ulrich charged the court "causes more parking problems than any other source in the downtown area."

"The state police park everywhere and anywhere," he wrote. "They use our lot, park all day in two-hour parking zones and use up all the other available parking on side streets. This also holds true of the people attending court: plaintiffs, defendants, witnesses and attorneys."

THE LETTER prompted a response from Eppley, who said he too thinks the parking problems have grown to the point where the court, should find a new home if possible.

"We receive $4,800 annual rental, which in my opinion does not reimburse us for the wear and tear on the building and the annoyance of unhappy people clogging the stairs, wandering about the halls and abusing our physical facilities because of their mental attitude," Eppley said in a

The manager said the court does serve as an advantage to local residents who do not "have to go to a strange town in order to go to court." He said a switch in court locations would probably bring complaints from some residents. The court has been in the village about 10 years.

To gather more information on the matter, Eppley has called for written reports from both the village attorney and police chief to be completed in 30 days. "This would include contacting the chief judge on the matter," he

15 teacher positions cut by Dist. 57

The Mount Prospect Dist 57 Board of Education has approved eliminating 15 of the district's 118 teaching positions to prevent deficit spending in the 1976-77 school year.

. 4 Sections, 28 Pages

The board Monday adopted recommendations of the Dist. 57 administration calling for the reduction of 10 elementary teachers, and five junior high school teachers. The cuts will result in an increase in the average class size from 24.7 to 26.7 at the elementary level and from about 23 to 25.9 at the junior high level.

Supt. Earl Sutter said Tuesday the teacher cutbacks will "all but eliminate" a budget deficit in the district in the 1976-77 school year. He said the district estimates a $10,000 saving for each teacher eliminated which will reduce the projected deficit to about

ALL EDUCATION programs in the district will be maintained despite the cutbacks, Sutter told the board. "The cuts were made keeping in mind that the board wants to maintain an average class size of 25 students and classes no larger than 30 students,"

Under the plan 1 classroom in the district elementary schools will have 32 students, 2 will have 31 students, 2 will have 30 students, 50 classes will have 25 to 29 students and 17 classes will have less than 25 students.

"It's nice to have an average class size of 25, but when you're making choices (to avoid financial probelms in the district) you have to make some that you don't always like," Sut-

Junior high school cuts include one teacher each from the language arts, social studies, math and science departments. Sutter said one teacher will also be eliminated from either the typing, industrial arts, home econom ics vocal music or art departments. There is currently one typing, two industrial arts, two home economics. one vocal music and two art teachers at the junior high level.

NO SPECIAL education or elementary special subject teachers, such as physical education, vocal and instrumental music, remedial reading or art teachers, will be cut. The band, guidance, library, learning disabilities teachers and the junior high nurse also are not affected.

Board member Edith Freund asked if the junior high staff cuts will force class size i Dist. 57 higher than other junior high schools.

"I can't give you exact ligures but we will probably be higher than most junior highs," Sutter said.

One teacher aide each from Busse and Fairview schools also will be cut, Sutter said. The two aides were hired this year to help children who had transferred in from Gregory School, closed by the board last year because of declining enrollments in the district.

The Dist. 57 teachers union had no statement Tuesday on the cutbacks. Camille Oldenburg, president of the union, said teachers are negotiating for a clause in the 1976-77 contract that will spell out how staff cuts are made. The teachers' contract now has no reduction in staff clause.

Schools

Sacred Heart High School

School activities, curriculum and finances at Sacred Heart of Mary High School, 2800 Central Rd., Rolling Meadows, will be discussed at a meeting for prospective students and their parents at 8 p.m. today and Thursday.

Parents will be asked to fill out a registration card and pay a $40 general fee at the information session. Bus transportation forms will also be available.

Booklets describing the freshman program will be distributed along with a sheet of course recommendations for each applicant. Recommendations are based on junior high experience and student acores on the January placement tests.

Appointments will be made for individual conferences to complete course selection. Conferences will be held from 3 to 5:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 9 p.m. March 8, 9 and 11.

Students interested in transferring to Sacred Heart of Mary also are invited to attend the meetings. Transfer students are asked to contact the school during March or April.

A contribution of $1,488.66 to the Campaign for Human Development has been made by Sacred Heart of Mary High School, Rolling Meadows.

The Catholic girls' school held a 12-hour dance-a-thon in November to raise money for the appeal. Students enlisted sponsors to pledge money for every hour that they danced. A total of 32 of the 34 couples danced the entire 12 hours with periodic rest breaks.

The largest pledge total, $417, was earned by Therese Bombera. Kathy Faul came in second with $330. Third place went to Judy O'Grady, fourth to Eva Lewandowski and fifth to Mike Maude.

Minister to tell Beirut adventures at St. Paul's March 14

The Rev. Dennis Hilgendorf and his family, who narrowly escaped death when exiting from war-torn Beirut, Lebanon, last fall, will be back in Mount Prospect March 14. They were residents here in 1968 and 1969.

Hilgendorf has a harrowing story to tell about his family being some of the last Christians to leave the religiously-persecuted area. Up to that time, the pastor had served his entire ministry in the Lebanese mission field.

In Mount Prospect, the Hilgendorf family lived in the St. Paul Lutheran Church Mission House on Evergreen Street. They were on a 'study furlough' at the time. The pastor and his wife Ellen became well known in the entire Northwest suburban area as interesting missionary speakers. They

Ryan against traffic study request

Arlington Heights Village Pres. James T. Ryan has opposed a request from a local businessman that an independent traffic study be conducted on the proposed railroad underpass at Arlington Heights Road and Northwest Highway before downtown improvements are made.

"The underpass is going to be nothing but a boom for downtown as long as there is something down there, Ryan said this week in resconse to Nicholas Lattof's opposition to the underpass.

Lattof, owner of Lattof Chevrolet, last month offered to contribute $10,000 to the cost of a traffic study.

Lattof has warned that the railroad underpass "would be the worst thing that could happen to this town." He

ANY IMPROVEMENTS to Arlington Heights Road should include a bypass for truck traffic, he said.

"There is no doubt in my mind that an underpass will allow people to get in and out of downtown with more dispatch than has ever been possible," Ryan said this week at the downtown improvement committee's meeting. "I would rather see that $10,000 (from Lattof) go toward doing something else," he said.

Trustee August Beitman, chairman of the committee, said he believed trucks would continue to use Ili. Rte 53 and Elmhurst Road, rather than Arlington Heights Road.

The village plans to lower Arlington Heights Road and Northwest Highway to relieve daily traffic jams at the intersection caused by passing trains. Government referendum looks shaky

A referendum on the form of government for the Village of Arlington Heights will not be approved by the village board, Trustee August Bettman predicted Tuesday night.

If a proposal to have the village change from an at-large to an aldermanic form of government is to be brought to a referendum, proponents will have to conduct a petition drive, Bettman said.

He made his statements at the first meeting of a special village board committee formed to review alternative forms of government

The change to, an aldermanic form of government has been proposed by former Trustee Dwight Walton and is supported by Village Pres. James T. Ryan.

The only trustees who have favored conducting a referendum on the formof-government question are David Griffin and Frank Palmatier.

TO CONDUCT a referendum, either the village board must vote to do so or 10 per cent of the residents who voted in last April's election must sign petitions requesting the change.

The petition route would require about 1,500 signatures of registered

"I don't think they have enough votes on the board to put this to a referendum. They're going to need to bring in petitions," Bettman said.

"I get the feeling that there is only a handful of people proposing this. I think if they see an antidistrict campaign in the next few months, they will back off," Bettman said.

ONLY FIVE residents attended the meeting Tuesday night. Two of them, officers of local homeowners associations, urged the committee to disband.

"You've kept up your moral responsibility, but you're just treading water. There is no groundswell of support for this," said Martin Cawley, a director of Surrey Ridge West.

"There's not a great deal of interest in this. I really think we'd do better to save our effort for such time as there is a referendum," said Anthony Vickers. vice president of Stonegate Homeowners Assn.

Trustee David Griffin, chairman of the committee, said he, too, opposed changing the village's form of government, but did agree that a referendum should be conducted.

"IT'S OBVIOUS that no one is here beating down the door in favor of dis-trictwide representation, but as a board member, I feel I have a duty to look into this question," Griffin said.

"The people who favor this aren't the type who are going to form a group and come down here. What we have to do is narrow down the choices to a few viable forms of government," he said.

The committee's next meeting will be March 22.

Sacred Heart High School

School activities, curriculum and finances at Sacred Heart of Mary High School, 2806 Central Rd., Rolling Meadows, will be discussed at a meeting for prospective students and their parents at 8 p.m. today and Thursday.

Parents will be asked to fill out a registration card and pay a $40 general fee at the information session. Bus transportation forms will also be available.

Booklets describing the freshman program will be distributed along with a sheet of course recommendations for each applicant. Recommendations are based on junior high experience and student scores on the January placement tests.

Appointments will be made for individual conferences to complete course selection. Conferences will be held from 3 to 5:80 p.m. and from 6:30 to 9 p.m. March 8, 9 and 11.

Students interested in transferring to Sacred Heart of Mary also are invited to attend the meetings. Transfer students are asked to contact the school during March or April.

A contribution of $1,488.66 to the Campaign for Human Development has been made by Sacred Heart of Mary High School, Rolling Meadows.

The Catholic girls' school held a 12-hour dance-s-thon in November to raise money for the appeal. Students enlisted sponsors to pledge money for every hour that they denced. A total of 32 of the 34 couples danced the entire 12 hours with periodic rest breaks.

The largest pledge total, $417, was earned by Therese Bombera. Kathy Faul came in second with $330. Third place went to Judy O'Grady, fourth to Eva Lewandowski and fifth to Mike Maude.

Mount Prospect Dist. 57

Thelmo Tapia, an 18-year-old foreign exchange student from Cuenca, Ecuador, will visit with students at Lions Park School, Mount Prospect, March 28 and 30. Thelmo is attending Prospect High School and living with the John Welles family in Mount Prospect. His year in the United States is sponsored by the American Field Service.

Thelmo will appear in native costume, show art objects from Ecuador and accompany himself on the guitar while he sings Spanish songs. Appearing with Thelme will be Beth Meredith, Arlington Heights, also a student at Prospect High School, who lived in Quito, Ecuador last summer under the American Abroad program sponsored by the American Field Service. She will share her experiences with a slide presentation.

High School Dist. 214

Students from Wheeling High School will attend a matinee performance of the Alvin Ailey City Center Dance Theatre today at the Auditorium Theater.

The matinee will feature a lecture/demonstration on modern dance, including excerpts from a number of Alvin Ailey's works. The modern dance company has been featured in concerts nationally and abroad.

Our Lady of the Wayside

Finance panel to discuss plan for special head count

A proposal to conduct a special census for Arlington Heights to determine whether the village would be eligible for an estimated additional $86,000 annually in revenue will be discussed tonight by the village board's finance committee.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the municipal building, 33 S. Arlington

The estimated cost of taking the census is $40,600, Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said.

Hanson said that the village's population may have increased from 69,204 to more than 74,000 since the 1970 census. "We are estimating that if we have a 4,800 increase, the village would receive an additional $96,000 annually," he said.

our estimated population increase, since it is based on the number of water meters that have been installed," he said.

The increased revenue to the village would be through motor fuel tax revenue and federal and state revenue sharing, Hanson said.

Hersey to stage 'Fantasticks'.

The musical fantasy "The Fantasticks" by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt will be presented by Hersey High School students Friday through Sunday in the theater of the school, 1900 E. Thomas St., Arlington

The musical, the longest running in the history of the American theater, is a love story containing such songs as "Try To Remember." "Soon It's Gonna Rain" and "They Were You."

The production is directed by Jerry M. Lowe with musical direction by Charles Jenks and technical direction by Robert Berry.

Curtain time for Friday and Saturday performances is 8 p.m. and Sun-of the special downtown improvements committee, has asked the two subcommittees considering the need for parking garages and pedestrian mails to meet as soon as possible to develop their final recommendations.

Village Pres. James T. Ryan told Bettman to submit all of the committee's recommendations together, rather than "piecemeal."

The committee is expected to recommend a multitiered parking garage and a shopping mall in the downtown business district, as well as changes in the village's parking requirements.

VILLAGE MGR. L. A. Hanson suggested that the committee "make a positive statement now" about changing the village ordinance that requires businesses to provide adequate offstreet parking or pay a fee of $1,600 per space not provided.

"You could recommend this now and show some results. This always comes back to haunt us," Hanson

Executive Director of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce Earl Johnson agreed, saying, "People downtown have wearied of seeing these plans and nothing followed up."

"The downtown merchants need to take a leadership role themselve," Ryan said "We have momentum We're close to a breakthrough. This committee has accomplished much more than any previous committee did." he said.

Bettman said the committee also plans to ask for free parking on Saturdays in downtown Arlungton Heights.
